 Cognition: Why Minds are not Machines J.H. Fetzer,2013-03-07 An important collection of studies providing a fresh and original perspective on the nature of mind including thoughtful and detailed arguments that explain why the prevailing paradigm the computational conception of language and mentality can no longer be sustained An alternative approach is advanced inspired by the work of Charles S Peirce according to which minds are sign using or semiotic systems which in turn generates distinctions between different kinds of minds and overcomes problems that burden more familiar alternatives Unlike conceptions of minds as machines this novel approach has obvious evolutionary implications where differences in semiotic abilities tend to distinguish the species From this point of view the scope and limits of computer and AI systems can be more adequately appraised and alternative accounts of consciousness and cognition can be more thoroughly criticised Readership Intermediate and advanced students of computer science AI cognitive science and all students of the philosophy of the mind     Aspects of Artificial Intelligence J.H. Fetzer,2012-12-06 This series will include monographs and collections of studies devoted to the investigation and exploration of knowledge information and data processing systems of all kinds no matter whether human other animal or machine Its scope is intended to span the full range of interests from classical problems in the philosophy of mind and philosophical psychology through issues in cognitive psychology and sociobiology concerning the mental capabilities of other species to ideas related to artificial intelligence and to computer science While primary emphasis will be placed upon theoretical conceptual and epistemological aspects of these problems and domains empirical experimental and methodological studies will also appear from time to time The present volume illustrates the approach represented by this series It addresses fundamental questions lying at the heart of artificial intelligence including those of the relative virtues of computational and of non computational conceptions of language and of mind whether AI should be envisioned as a philosophical or as a scientific discipline the theoretical character of patterns of inference and modes of argumentation especially defeasible and inductive reasoning and the relations that may obtain between AI and epistemology Alternative positions are developed in detail and subjected to vigorous debate in the justifiable expectation that here as elsewhere critical inquiry provides the most promising path to discovering the truth about ourselves
