Understanding Teaching Continuity Chan:

Crossing Borders in East Asian Higher Education David W. Chapman, William K. Cummings, Gerard A.

Postiglione, 2010-11-18 This book examines issues that have emerged as higher education systems and individual institutions across East Asia confront and adapt to the changing economic social and educational environments in which they now operate The book's focus is on how higher education systems learn from each other and on the ways in which they collaborate to address new challenges The sub theme that runs through this volume concerns the changing nature of cross border sharing In particular the provision of technical assistance by more industrialized countries to lower and middle income countries has given way to collaborations that place the latter's participating institutions on a more equal footing

Confucian Pragmatism as the Art of Contextualizing Personal Experience and World Haiming Wen, 2009-04-16 This engaging work of comparative philosophy brings together American pragmatism and Chinese philosophy in a way that generates new interpretations of Chinese philosophy and a fresh perspective on issues in process philosophy Through an analysis of key terms Haiming Wen argues that Chinese philosophical terminology is not simply a retrospective language that through a process of stipulation promises us knowledge of an existing world but is also an open prospective vocabulary that through productive associations allows philosophers to realize a desired world Relying on this productive power of Chinese
