The Return of the Storyteller in Contemporary Fiction Areti Dragas,2014-08-31 Focusing on the figure of the storyteller this study breaks new ground in the approach to reading contemporary literature by identifying a growing interest in storytelling For the last thirty years contemporary fiction has been influenced by theoretical discourses textuality and writing Only since the rise of postcolonialism have academic critics been more overtly interested in stories where high theory frameworks are less applicable However as we move through various contemporary contexts engaging with postcolonial identities and hybridity to narratives of disability and evolutionary accounts of group and individual survival a common feature of all is the centrality of story which posits both the idea of survival and the passing on of traditions The Return of the Storyteller in Contemporary Fiction closely examines this preoccupation with story and storytelling through a close reading of six contemporary international novelists that are either about actual storytellers or engage with the figure of the storyteller revealing how death of the author has given birth to the storyteller

Marginality in the Contemporary British Novel Nicola Allen, 2011-10-27 The Marginal as a concept has become an integral part of the British novel as it stands at the turn of the century Both popular and literary fiction since the mid 1970s has seen an increasing emphasis on the marginal subject This study offers readings of a wide range of contemporary British novels that represent characters or communities at the margin of society Nicola Allen analyses three conceptual categories representing the marginal subject in the contemporary British novel the character of the misfit or outsider the emergence of the grotesque and the rediscovery of previously marginalized narratives such as myth and fantasy This innovative and original monograph focuses on the contention that the contemporary novel of marginality conveys a belief in the socially transformative powers of narrative and suggests that narrative has played a central role in bringing marginal politics and marginal issues to the fore in contemporary Britain The Storyteller's Daughter Sharon Dawn Selby, 2015-02-10 On her seventeenth birthday Skye MacNamara loses both her parents after their car plunges into a river With unseemly haste her parents are declared dead despite the absence of bodies and every trace that they existed is erased Suspicious Skye begins

The Storyteller's Daughter Saira Shah,2004-10-12 Imagine that a jewel like garden overlooking Kabul is your ancestral home Imagine a kitchen made fragrant with saffron strands and cardamom pods simmering in an authentic pilau Now remember that you were born in London your family in exile and that you have never seen Afghanistan in peacetime These are but the starting points of Saira Shah's memoir by turns inevitably exotic and unavoidably heartbreaking in which she explores her family's history in and out of Afghanistan As an accomplished journalist and documentarian her film Beneath the Veil unflinchingly depicted for CNN viewers the humiliations forced on women under Taliban rule Shah returned to her family's homeland cloaked in the burqa to witness the pungent and shocking realities of Afghan life As the daughter of the Sufi fabulist Idries Shah primed by a lifetime of listening to her father's stories she eagerly sought out from the mouths of Afghan refugees in Pakistan the rich and living myths that still sustain this battered culture of warriors And she discovered that in Afghanistan all the storytellers have been men until now
