Enhancing Technology-Mediated Communication: Tools, Analyses, and Predictive Models, 2007 For most of us interpersonal communication is at the center of our professional and personal lives With the growing distribution of business organizations and of our social networks so grows the need for and use of communication technologies Many of today's communication tools however suffer from a number of shortcomings For example the inherent discrepancy between one's desire to initiate communication and another's ability or desire to receive it often leads to unwanted interruptions on the one hand or failed communication on the other I have taken an interdisciplinary approach to address these shortcomings and also in order to provide a better understanding of human behavior and the use of communication tools combining tool building and the creation of predictive models with investigation and analysis of large volumes of field data At the focus of this dissertation is my research on Instant Messaging IM communication a popular interesting and highly observable point on the continuum between synchronous and asynchronous communication mediums I present the creation of a set of statistical models that are able to predict with high accuracy users responsiveness to incoming communication A quantitative analysis complements these models by revealing major factors that influence responsiveness illuminating its role in IM communication I then describe an investigation of the effect of interpersonal relationships on communication and statistical models that can predict these relationships Finally I describe a tool I have created that allows users to balance their responsiveness to IM with their ability to stay on task role of technology and mediated communication in today's society     Introduction to Computer Mediated Communication Kendall Hunt Publishing Company, 2014     Developing Technology Mediation in Learning Environments Soares, Filomena, Lopes, Ana Paula, Brown, Ken, Uukkivi, Anne, 2019-12-27 Most technologies have been harnessed to enable educators to conduct their business remotely. However, the social context of technology as a mediating factor needs to be examined to address the perceptions of barriers to learning due to the lack of social interaction between a teacher and a learner in such a setting. Developing Technology Mediation in Learning Environments is an essential reference source that widens the scene of STEM education with an all-encompassing approach to technology-mediated learning, establishing a context for technology as a mediating factor in education. Featuring research on topics such as distance education, digital storytelling, and mobile learning, this book is ideally designed for teachers, IT consultants, educational software developers, researchers, administrators, and professionals seeking coverage on developing digital skills and professional knowledge using technology.     Computer-Mediated Communication for Linguistics and Literacy: Technology and Natural Language Education Bodomo, Adams B., 2009-07-31 This book investigates the way humans communicate through the medium of information technology gadgets, focusing on the linguistic literacy and educational aspects of computer-mediated communication. Provided by publisher     The Handbook of Technology and Second Language Teaching and Learning Carol A. Chapelle, Shannon Sauro, 2017-09-05 The Handbook of Technology and Second Language Teaching and Learning presents a comprehensive exploration of the impact of technology on the field of second language learning. The rapidly evolving language technology interface has propelled dramatic changes in and increased opportunities for second language teaching and learning. Its influence has been felt no less keenly in the approaches and methods of assessing learners' language and researching language teaching and learning. Contributions from a team of international scholars make up the Handbook, consisting of four parts: language teaching and learning through technology; the technology pedagogy interface; technology for L2 assessment and research; and development of technology for language learning. It considers how technology assists in all areas of language development: the emergence of pedagogy at the intersection of language and technology; technology in language assessment; and major research issues in research and development of technologies for language learning. It covers all aspects of language, including grammar, vocabulary, reading, writing, listening, speaking, pragmatics, and intercultural learning, as well as new pedagogical and assessment approaches and new ways of conceiving and conducting research and development. The Handbook of Technology and Second Language Teaching and Learning demonstrates the extensive, multifaceted implications of technology for language teachers, learners, materials developers, and researchers.     Social Factors in the Design and Use of Computer-mediated Communication Technology Erin Marie Bradner, 2001     Introduction to Computer Mediated Communication David Keith Westerman, 2014 Introduction to Computer Mediated Communication focuses on what functions people use technology for and how people use technology to
