Geological Series, 1914 Light in a Dark Void Michael Markevich, 2022-06-23 The author is speaking about the way method or apparatus of soul and its infusion with the human condition Worship as achieved aesthetically embellishes Dark chaos energy of possibility A familiar nuclear furnace is allegorically used to describe spiritual emergence The narrative may at times read like a scientific handbook of the life force known as soul Perpetuity principle is introduced and the purpose of humankind is unveiled

Finding Lights in a Dark Age Chris Smaje, 2025-11-11 How we can meet the challenges of our age by moving away from the political and economic philosophies of both the left and right to a more equitable re organization of society economy land and food production driven by the local community rather than a central government Today society and government are still asking what our country can yield and in what quantity They do so because in a sense we are still living in conquest based societies Agrarian thinker Chris Smaje opens this book by drawing an arresting modern parallel to Viking raiding trading and enslaving societies and the Ragnarok they faced then of dramatic climate change and societal collapse So to meet these modern crises Chris asks us to look beyond the current discourse of capitalism versus chaos and indeed the dualism of state versus market and the state with the market both of which has failed us Instead Chris explores a world where we live slower lives more immersed in local ecologies Where our present Viking age has inflicted a thorough alienation from place and local livelihood Chris proposes other models of collective organization where land and capital are seen as a common good that involves a widespread and secure redistribution These ideas are the basic principles associated with distributism broadly that issues should be dealt with at the most immediate or local level feasible and governance wherever possible should be bottom up There should also be a moral economy founded in ideals of justice Work and production should rest on commitments struck in a community rather than deals in a market There should be a concept of shared common good of what life is for Ultimately we should build a sense of future possibility around local ecological societies dedicated to human and ecological wellbeing Much of the global damage to the environment has arisen not because people were there in the landscape but because they weren't It's time to hospice modernity and build a green Earth rising In this book Chris discusses what this society and landscape might look like in the near future and longer term

The Dark Side of Families David Finkelhor, 1983-03 This series of articles portrays the state of the art on family violence and abuse research crystallizes the key interdisciplinary issues confronting family violence and abuse researchers and suggests a research agenda for the coming years Although the chapters cover a broad spectrum of issues and controversies in the areas of wife abuse child abuse the sexual abuse of children and marital rape a number of common themes and issues emerge First many chapters share the perspective that violence and abuse emerge from the nature of social arrangements Second even though many different forms of family violence and abuse are discussed several chapters explore their commonalities and important etiological differences A number of articles examine the common effects of victimization across various forms of family violence and abuse A third common theme of the papers is an expansion of research efforts to groups other than victims of family violence and abuse as there are chapters that examine the individual and social characteristics of male perpetrators of both wife abuse and child abuse as well as chapters that focus on the attitudes and behaviors of professional groups concerned with the treatment of victims of family violence and abuse The volume shows great methodological diversity and attention to theoretical detail the research presented reveals the possibility of a more comprehensive social science approach to the study of family violence and abuse In work related to theory building one chapter explains a number of findings in the child abuse and neglect literature using propositions derived from evolutionary biology another paper distills propositions from several theoretical traditions In conjunction with these efforts several chapters report research designed to test competing propositions Chapter references and research data are provided
