The Architext An Introduction:

The Architext Gérard Genette, 1992-01-01 Genette's erudite and witty book challenges radical historicism in literary studies A marvel of precision and argumentative rigour Thomas Pavel Princeton University Virginia Woolf in Context Bryony Randall, Jane Goldman, 2012-12-17 Covering a wide range of historical theoretical critical and cultural contexts this collection studies key issues in contemporary Woolf studies The Eusebian Canon Tables Matthew R. Crawford, 2019-05-06 One of the books most central to late antique religious life was the four gospel codex containing the Gospels of Matthew Mark Luke and John A common feature in such manuscripts was a marginal cross referencing system known as the Canon Tables This reading aid was invented in the early fourth century by Eusebius of Caesarea and represented a milestone achievement both in the history of the book and in the scholarly study of the fourfold gospel In this work Matthew R Crawford provides the first book length treatment of the origins and use of the Canon Tables apparatus in any language Part one begins by defining the Canon Tables as a paratextual device that orders the textual content of the fourfold gospel It then considers the relation of the system to the prior work of Ammonius of Alexandria and the hermeneutical implications of reading a four gospel codex equipped with the marginal apparatus Part two transitions to the reception of the paratext in subsequent centuries by highlighting four case studies from different cultural and theological traditions from Augustine of Hippo who used the Canon Tables to develop the first ever theory of gospel composition to a Syriac translator in the fifth century to later monastic scholars in Ireland between the seventh and ninth centuries Finally from the eighth century onwards Armenian commentators used the artistic adornment of the Canon Tables as a basis for contemplative meditation These four case studies represent four different modes of using the Canon Tables as a paratext and illustrate the potential inherent in the Eusebian apparatus for engaging with the fourfold gospel in a variety of ways from the philological to the theological to the visual

Writing to the World Rachael Scarborough King, 2018-06-17 King's pitch for the indebtedness of the genres we know well the novel the biography the magazine piece to letter writing is stylish and convincing Christina Lupton author of Reading and the Making of Time in the Eighteenth Century In Writing to the World Rachael Scarborough King examines the shift from manuscript to print media culture in the long eighteenth century She introduces the concept of the bridge genre which enables such change by transferring existing textual conventions to emerging modes of composition and circulation She draws on this concept to reveal how four crucial genres that emerged during this time the newspaper the periodical the novel and the biography were united by their reliance on letters to accustom readers to these new forms of print media King explains that as newspapers scientific journals book reviews and other new genres began to circulate widely much of their form and content was borrowed from letters allowing for easier access to these unfamiliar modes of printing and reading texts Arguing that bridge genres encouraged people to see themselves as connected by networks of communication as members of what they called the world of writing King combines techniques of genre theory with archival research and literary interpretation analyzing canonical works such as Addison and Steele's Spectator, Samuel Johnson's Lives of the Poets and Jane Austen's Northanger Abbey alongside anonymous periodicals and the letters of middle class housewives. This original and groundbreaking work in media and literary history offers a model for the process of genre formation. Ultimately, Writing to the World is a sophisticated look at the intersection of print and the public sphere. This erudite, sophisticated, beautifully written book is a major achievement. Thomas Keymer, author of Poetics of the Pillory.

Examining Paratextual Theory and its Applications in Digital Culture Desrochers, Nadine, 2014-04-30. The paratext framework is now used in a variety of fields to assess, measure, analyze, and comprehend the elements that provide thresholds, allowing scholars to better understand digital objects. Researchers from many disciplines revisit paratextual theories in order to grasp what surrounds text in the digital age. Examining Paratextual Theory and its Applications in Digital Culture suggests a theoretical and practical tool for building bridges between disciplines interested in conducting joint research and exploration of digital culture. Helping scholars from different fields find an interdisciplinary framework and common language to study digital objects, this book serves as a useful reference for academics, librarians, professionals, researchers, and students, offering a collaborative outlook and perspective.

Studies in Eighteenth-century Culture Timothy Erwin, Ourida Mostefai, 2000. This volume of Studies in Eighteenth Century Culture offers a cluster of essays on literature and medicine. Allegories of Healing that consider at length the different ways the physician-patient relationship was configured in France and Great Britain. Other essays discuss the unspoken politics of ocular observation, family relations, and family values in Defoe and Frances Burney, ideals of polite marriage in France, portraiture as a record of the career of actress Sarah Siddons, period contexts for the works of dramatist Joanna Baillie and novelist Maria Edgeworth, and the phenomenology of rereading Richardson. The volume concludes with a reconsideration by Robert Wokler and Bruce Mazlish of Ernst Cassirer's study The Philosophy of the Enlightenment. Transfigurations Asbjørn Grønstad, 2008. In many senses, viewers have cut their teeth on the violence in American cinema, from Anthony Perkins slashing Janet Leigh in the most infamous of shower scenes to the 1970s masterpieces of Martin Scorsese. Sam

Peckinpah and Francis Ford Coppola to our present day undertakings in imagining global annihilations through terrorism war and alien grudges Transfigurations brings our cultural obsession with film violence into a renewed dialogue with contemporary theory Grnstad argues that the use of violence in Hollywood films should be understood semiotically rather than viewed realistically Tranfigurations thus alters both our methodology of reading violence in films and the meanings we assign to them depicting violence not as a self contained incident but as a convoluted network of our own cultural ideologies and beliefs Contention, 1992 Redefining Difference Theresa Marie Tensuan, 2002 Articulating Truth and Reconciliation in South Africa Adam Sitze, 2003 Discourse, 1992 Lyric Subjectivities Jessica Margaret Fisher, 2009 The Novel Franco Moretti, 2006 Nearly as global in its ambition and sweep as its subject Franco Moretti's The Novel is a watershed event in the understanding of the first truly planetary literary form A translated selection from the epic five volume Italian Il Romanzo 2001 2003 The Novel's two volumes are a unified multiauthored reference work containing more than one hundred specially commissioned essays by leading contemporary critics from around the world Providing the first international comparative reassessment of the novel these essential volumes reveal the form in unprecedented depth and breadth as a great cultural social and human phenomenon that stretches from the ancient Greeks to today where modernity itself is unimaginable without the genre By viewing the novel as much more than an aesthetic form this landmark collection demonstrates how the genre has transformed human emotions and behavior and the very perception of reality Historical statistical and formal analyses show the novel as a complex literary system in which new forms proliferate in every period and place Volume 2 Forms and Themes views the novel primarily from the inside examining its many formal arrangements and recurrent thematic manifestations and looking at the plurality of the genre and its lineages Publisher The Limits of Historiography Christina Shuttleworth Kraus, 1999 This volume explores the intersection between historiography and related genres in antiquity ranging from China to the Mediterranean Contributors use a range of reading strategies to analyze the place of rhetoric genre and intertextuality in these important ancient narratives The Quest for Identities Şabrî Hâfız, 2007 A fascinating study of a popular and vital genre often overlooked by literary critics
