Worlds Enough and Time Gary Westfahl, George Slusser, David A. Leiby, 2002-06-30 With our lives firmly controlled by the steady pace of time humans have yearned for ways to escape its constraints and authors have responded with narratives about traveling far into the past or future reversing the flow of time or creating alternate universes This book considers how imaginative works involving time travel reflect ongoing scientific concerns and examine the human condition The scope of the volume is unusually wide covering such topics as Dante the major novels of the 19th century and stories and films of the 1990s The book concludes with a lengthy bibliography of short stories and novels films and television programs and nonfiction works that feature time travel or speculations about time

Making History Jonathon S. Cullick, 2000-04-01 From his first published book to his last works Robert Penn Warren wrote novels poetry biographies and essays based on the lives of American historical figures Even some of his critical texts take a biographical approach to their subjects In Making History the first comprehensive survey of Warren's biographical narratives Jonathan S Cullick tracks a clear development toward autobiography in Warren's career By applying narrative theory to that provocative trend he then makes an intriguing discovery Warren's discourse techniques dramatize his philosophy of history and ethics Cullick unearths what might be called the narrative syntax of Warren's historical vision in which genre becomes vital in the attempt to reconcile American past and present Making History considers all of Warren's major biographical narratives and their evolution from detached reporting to doubtful self examination It offers a new reading of Warren's famed novel All the King's Men and close examination of several neglected texts including Warren's first book John Brown: The Making of a Martyr, his essay The World of Daniel Boone and two of his final works Jefferson Davis Gets His Citizenship Back and Portrait of a Father Sleeping With the Boss: Female Subjectivity and Narrative Pattern in Robert Penn Warren Ferriss, Lucy, 1997 Robert Penn Warren and American Idealism John Burt, 1988-01-01 A comprehensive study that explores the intricate relationship between Robert Penn Warren's literary works and the concept of American idealism. The book delves into how Warren's writings reflect and critique the foundational ideals of America such as liberty, democracy, and individualism. Burt examines Warren's engagement with American history and its ideals, highlighting how Warren's characters often grapple with the tension between idealism and reality. The book discusses Warren's belief that America's identity is rooted in an abstract idea rather than a shared ancestry or long history, making the American experience unique and complex. Through close readings of Warren's poetry, fiction, and historical writings, Burt illustrates how Warren's work addresses the moral and philosophical challenges of American idealism. The book also touches on Warren's views on the Civil War and its lasting impact on American society, emphasizing the ongoing struggle to reconcile the nation's ideals with its historical realities. Overall, Robert Penn Warren and American Idealism provides a nuanced and insightful analysis of Warren's literary contributions and their significance in understanding American identity and ideals. Works. [Seven Seas Ed.] Rudyard Kipling, 1914 Nineteenth Century and After, 1907 The Melbourne Critical Review, 1961 The Long Haul William Parrill, 1994-06-07 This book is a collection of conversations with important contemporary Southern novelists and with Lewis P. Simpson, longtime co-editor of The Southern Review and an established authority on Southern literature. The two long conversations with Professor Simpson place the post-World War II Southern novel in the context of modern literature and of the classical Southern novel. Professor Simpson, who knew many of the giants of Southern literature, assesses the writers of the past and the possibilities of the future. The volume includes conversations with Ernest Gaines, Madison Jones, Shirley Ann Grau, David Madden, the late John William Corrington, James Wilcox, and Vance Bourjaily. A chapter by the editor about his relationship with the late Walker Percy concludes the volume. Co-published with Southeastern Louisiana State University. A Paradise of English Poetry: Romance Henry Charles Beeching, 1893 World Enough and Time Emma C. Williams, 2012 Anna's determination and humour, intelligence and spirit inspire readers as she grows up with Goldenhar syndrome. Studia Anglica Posnaniensia, 1974 □□□□, 1980 A quarterly of comparative studies of Chinese and foreign literatures. Books, 1954 Rainforests of the World Kathlyn Gay, 1993-11 This authoritative volume examines the reasons for rainforest destruction, the effects of deforestation on indigenous plant and animal life, and the policies and actions that are currently being taken to protect rainforests. English Prose and Verse from Beowulf to Stevenson Henry Spackman Pancoast, 1915 Wings, 1959 Fantasy, 1935 The Horse in Early Modern English Culture Kevin De Ornellas, 2014 Kevin De Ornellas argues that in Renaissance England the relationship between horse and rider works as an unambiguous symbol of domination by the strong over the weak. There was little sentimental concern for animal welfare leading to the routine abuse of the material animal. This unproblematic practical exploitation of the horse led to the currency of the horse rider relationship as a trope or symbol of exploitation in the literature of the period. Engaging with fiction, plays, poems, and non-fictional prose works of late Tudor and early Stuart England, De Ornellas demonstrates that the horse, a bridled unwilling slave, becomes a yardstick against which the oppression of England's poor women, increasingly uninfluential clergyman, and deluded gamblers is measured. The status of the bitted, harnessed horse was a low one in early modern England; to be compared to such a beast is a demonstration of inferiority and subjugation. To think anything else is to be naive about the realities of horse management in the period and is to be naive about the realities of the exploitation of horses and other mammals in the present day world.
