To Be Loved:

The Right To Be Loved S. Matthew Liao, 2015-10-01 S Matthew Liao argues here that children have a right to be loved To do so he investigates questions such as whether children are rightholders what grounds a child s right to beloved whether love is an appropriate object of a right and other philosophical and practical issues His proposal is that all human beings have rights to the fundamental conditions for pursuing a good life therefore as human beings children have human rights to the fundamental conditions for pursuing a good life Since being loved is one of those fundamental conditions children thus have a right to be loved Liao shows that this claim need not be merely empty rhetoric and that the arguments for this right can hang together as a coherent whole This is the first book to make a sustained philosophical case for the right of children to be loved It makes a unique contribution to the fast growing literature on family ethics in particular on children s rights and parental rights and responsibilities and to the emerging field of the philosophy of human rights
