Werner Schroeter

Wolfgang Guggemos

Werner Schroeter:

Days of Twilight, Nights of Frenzy Werner Schroeter, Claudia Lenssen, 2017-07-18 Werner Schroeter was a leading figure of New German Cinema. In more than forty films made between 1967 and 2008 including features, documentaries, and shorts, he ignored conventional narrative, creating instead dense, evocative collages of image and sound. For years, his work was eclipsed by contemporaries such as Wim Wenders, Rainer Werner Fassbinder, Werner Herzog, and Alexander Kluge. Yet his work has become known to a wider audience through several recent retrospectives, including at the Museum of Modern Art, New York. Written in the last years of his life, Days of Twilight, Nights of Frenzy sees Schroeter looking back at his life with the help of film critic and friend Claudia Lenssen. Born in 1945, Schroeter grew up near Heidelberg and spent just a few weeks in film school before leaving to create his earliest works. Over the years, he would work with acclaimed artists including Marianne Hopps, Isabelle Huppert, Candy Darling, and Christine Kaufmann. In the 1970s, Schroeter also embarked on prolific parallel careers in theater and opera, where he worked in close collaboration with the legendary diva Maria Callas. His childhood, his travels in Italy, France, and Latin America, his coming out, and subsequent life as a gay man in Europe, and his run-ins with Hollywood are but a few of the subjects Schroeter recalls with insights and characteristic understated humor. A sharp, lively, even funny memoir, Days of Twilight, Nights of Frenzy captures Schroeter's extravagant life vividly over a vast, prolific career, including many stories that might have been lost were it not for this book. It is sure to fascinate cinephiles and anyone interested in the culture around film and the arts.

The Queer German Cinema Alice A. Kuzniar, 2000. On German homosexual cinema.

A Night in at the Opera Jeremy Tambling, 1994. Offering an arresting range of accounts by specialists in music, media, and popular culture on how the popular arts have represented opera, this book raises issues about the sociology of music and its implications for television and video culture.

Flamboyant Fictions Ian Fleishman, 2024-12-15. Exposes a stylistic tradition of flamboyantly failed passing in queer literature and film. This book posits formal experimentation as an index for evolving expressions of male homosexuality from literary modernism to the German New Wave and the present day. Ian Fleishman exposes a tradition of flamingly failed passing that is itself a surreptitious mode of passing, the flaunting of queer style as an intentionally unconvincing cover for queer content. Exploring a corpus of films and novels by Andr  Gide, Jean Genet, Rainer Werner Fassbinder, Werner Schroeter, Fran ois Ozon, and Xavier Dolan, among others, Flamboyant Fictions: The Failed Art of Passing intervenes in trenchant debates about queer agency, visibility, negativity, and disidentification. Mapping queer strategies of storytelling onto queer practices of self-invention, Flamboyant Fictions wagers that it is precisely in instances of conflict between these auteurs and their inventions that narrative becomes a laboratory for testing the sovereignty and self-determination of queer identity.

New German Cinema and Its Global Contexts Marco Abel, Jaimey Fisher, 2025-01-14. Rediscovering a momentous cinema movement, its canonization, and its recasting through global discourse. The last of the so-called new waves in film: New German Cinema of the 1970s and early

1980s represents much more than a national phenomenon it impacted and was influenced by films from around the world Filmmakers such as the famous troika of Rainer Werner Fassbinder Werner Herzog and Wim Wenders as well as directors such as Margarethe von Trotta Helma Sanders Brahm and Helke Sander and Volker Schlöndorff received much critical acclaim both in Germany and abroad These directors their films and their often infamous reputations constitute one of the most intriguing and consequential legacies of European cinema and world culture In this groundbreaking view of New German Cinema through a global lens editors Marco Abel and Jaimey Fisher approach these celebrated years of German art film from diverse and innovative perspectives Contributors explore these films transnational circuits of production distribution and exhibition as well as how the films were made and received thereby inviting us to reexamine the roots of what New German Cinema was and imagine what it might yet become

The New German Cinema Caryl Flinn, 2004 This study of New German cinema identifies different styles of historical remembrance in which music participates It concentrates on how listeners are urged to interact with difference including Germany's difficult past rather than try to master or get past it

A Credible Utopia Peter Valente, 2022 A Credible Utopia Essays on Selected Films of Werner Schroeter offers unique and personal insights into Schroeter's cinematic universe Many of the films discussed in this book are those upon which Schroeter's worldwide reputation rests Der Bomberpilot an absurdist comedy The Death of Maria Malibran a film about ecstatic redemption in death Willow Springs about the complex relationships between men and women Day of the Idiots a visually baroque operatic and highly dramatic film about madness The Kingdom of Naples Schroeter's visually stunning depiction of Italy in the post war years and Palermo or Wolfsburg for which Schroeter won the Golden Bear an epic film about love violence and cultural malaise But Valente also addresses Schroeter's early experimental films that don't get as much attention such as Aggression Neurasia and Argila all of which are about the struggle between repression and desire and Deux a late work that Schroeter considered his masterpiece a film about the double and the ways in which identity is formed by integrating the abject part of ourselves with the good Valente concludes with an analysis of Nuit de Chien Schroeter's final film a powerful summation of a life devoted to art music literature and film When the Museum of Modern Art staged a retrospective of Schroeter's oeuvre in 2012 there was hardly anything in English on his films and only one film available on DVD in the US such that Schroeter's work as a director has remained largely invisible in the English speaking world A Credible Utopia repairs this lacuna in film history and in a detailed and intimate reading of Schroeter's queer oeuvre links all these films together through Schroeter's desire for a credible utopia despite our shared awareness of disaster torture viciousness and political corruption in the world
