Working Sober:

Working Sober William J. Sonnenstuhl, 2018-05-31 Americans assume that workers do not drink on the job and that if they do it is because they suffer from alcoholism rather than because they are conforming to occupational expectations William J Sonnenstuhl disagrees He contends that some occupational cultures encourage heavy drinking Moreover his research suggests that the sense of community which motivates drinking can also sometimes inspire workers to break the pattern and work sober Revised and updated this report addresses questions often raised by employers and union leaders developing job based programs to help alcoholic and other troubled employees This new edition discusses the efforts of EAP workers the historical development and key components of EAPs and the importance of balance in program strategies and in corporate and union responsibilities
