Encyclopaedia of Midrash Jacob Neusner, Alan Avery-Peck, 2022-11-07 The Encyclopedia of Midrash Biblical Interpretation in Formative Judaism provides a systematic account of biblical interpretation in Judaism from well before the second century BCE through the end of the seventh century CE. While emphasizing the Rabbinic literature, it also covers interpretation of Scripture in a number of distinct canons ranging from the Targumic literature and Dead Sea Scrolls to the New Testament and Church Fathers. The encyclopedia comprises fifty-six essays written by thirty scholars representing the leading figures in the study of ancient Judaism and biblical interpretation in North America, Europe, and the State of Israel. Alongside a general introduction to Rabbinic Midrash and its traits, including the theoretical questions of definition, origins, theology, hermeneutics, genre, criticism, and language, the encyclopedia addresses specific topics of concern in the study of scriptural interpretation. How Rabbinic midrashic documents that focus on specific books of Scripture read those specific books, the theology expressed by Rabbinic midrashic compilations, and the historical context in which Rabbinic Midrash took shape, all are treated. Beyond these central issues in understanding Rabbinic Midrash, the encyclopedia treats interpretations of Scripture that came to closure prior to or outside of the framework of Rabbinic Midrash: Hellenistic Jewish Midrash, Josephus, Pseudo-Philo, Jubilees, as well as to the New Testament, Karaite and Samaritan writings, and the Dead Sea Scrolls. The Encyclopedia of Midrash provides readers with a depth and breadth of treatment of Midrash unavailable in any other single source. Through the writings of top scholars in each of their fields, it sets out the current state of the question for each of the many topics discussed in its pages. The print edition is available as a set of two volumes. 9789004141667

Windows To The Soul Ime Ibanga, 2011-03-01 A Poet is a poet and his value is realized by the aesthetics and free run of the lines that form the corpus of his poetry. Rhythm, rhyme, and images beautify a poem, but the muse on which a poet builds a poem is the keynote of poetic appreciation. Such a muse is important because it has something to do with reality. Ime Ibanga, as a poet, has made acrobatic exploits into the realms of diverse topics of experience in his collection of poems entitled Windows to the Soul. Windows to the Soul as it is, is a random, imaginative passage into various categories that life represents. Sometimes these categories are pleasant; at other times, they are the wreckage of misfortunes. But misfortunes, in themselves, no matter what degree, are not terminal points in life. As some poems in the title show, especially those whose muses are highly religious, there is total assurance from misery dependent on inward faith in the supremacy of a Supernatural Being. For instance, stanza two of Divine Love states: "So the great God for our good / Shares our troubles, Bares our pains / Lest in our struggles / We lose our ventures." However, not that the entire muse of Ime's poems is pastoral, for he wrote most of his poems well long before he had his calling into the ministry. In fact, the cardinal signpost of Ime's thought is the radical graduation from one subject landmark to another. Significantly, when he is not entirely prophetic, he is mystical, philosophical, and romantic. A glimpse on these lines would bear me out To the clouds my love Above the mountains Where angels in Biblical myths In conquest rode upon chariots The above is a celebration of unfettered romantic feelings There are other poems in the collection that are equally inspiring and evocative For instance poems like Wisdom of Sand Time Pictures of the Mind Victory etc are all poems that can stand comparative tests with the Soyinka s and the Osundare s although Ime s poetic execution is of the simplistic hue But again one of the most outstanding poems and which is so intellectually attractive is Itikirikiri Village Here the poet uses homegrown experiences to convey a significant natural point of view He writes Itikirikiri O You re an insignificant enclave In Nigeria s hinterland Lost out in the woods Cut off from modernity Here is a village that produces all the food yet so neglected in the provision of social amenities Her people remain rusty untouched by wave of modernity and urban sophistication It is true that the edifice of the collection is totally prosaic but the poet is sometimes griped with mystical and existentialist topics Stanza one of Infinite Provisions read Wherefore the tears of sorrow Previously shed Is replaced By hilarious feelings However the whole poetic rendering indicates that the poet is engulfed in an experiential dilemma Many confusing things are happening at the same time and the poet is at a crossroad to envisage order in the seeming state of disorder These battered feelings however say why the lamentation of the poet is poured in sweet music That is why the hallmark of Ime s Poetry is that of consistent rhyme and rhythm This rhythmic flow paves way for over repetition which leads to melody Another hallmark of his is the free verse style and the extravagant use of metaphor and personification Take for instance the following lines extracted from Stepping Out
