Adaptive Micro Learning - Using Fragmented Time To Learn Geng Sun,Jun Shen,jiayin Lin,2020-02-18 This compendium introduces an artificial intelligence supported solution to realize adaptive micro learning over open education resource OER The advantages of cloud computing and big data are leveraged to promote the categorization and customization of OERs micro learning context For a micro learning service OERs are tailored into fragmented pieces to be consumed within shorter time frames Firstly the current status of mobile learning micro learning and OERs are described Then the significances and challenges of Micro Learning as a Service MLaaS are discussed A framework of a service oriented system is provided which adopts both online and offline computation domain to work in conjunction to improve the performance of learning resource adaptation In addition a comprehensive learner model and a knowledge base is prepared to semantically profile the learners and learning resource The novel delivery and access mode of OERs suffers from the cold start problem because of the shortage of already known learner information versus the continuously released new micro OERs This unique volume provides an excellent feasible algorithmic solution to overcome the cold start problem Time and Learning in the Special Education Classroom Libby Goodman,1990-01-01 Focusing on the relationship between time use and learning results this book explores the instructional processes in special education classrooms The text emphasizes teacher control of time resources at the classroom level instructional management strategies that conserve and enhance instructional time and the efficient and effective use of learning time to enhance student performance outcomes The dual dimensions of time and task are incorporated throughout the text to communicate the essential message that time and the appropriate use of time go hand in hand in the classroom Adequate time alone is a necessary but insufficient condition for maximal learning to occur Time and Learning in the Special Education Classroom strikes a balance between research and application to achieve a scholarly yet readable text relevant for both pre service and in service teachers supervisors principals administrators and teacher educators Learning in Real Time Jonathan E. Finkelstein,2006-07-21 Learning in Real Time is a concise and practical resource for education professionals teaching live and online or those wanting to humanize and improve interaction in their online courses by adding a synchronous learning component The book offers keen insight into the world of synchronous learning tools guides instructors in evaluating how and when to use them and illustrates how educators can develop their own strategies and styles in implementing such tools to improve online learning Expanded Learning Time and Opportunities Helen Janc Malone,2011-10-25 Expanding the learning day is gaining national momentum as an important school improvement and whole child development strategy This issue focuses on school community partnerships that provide a seamless longer learning day that best meets the academic Expanded Learning Time or ELT and developmental Expanded Learning Opportunities or ELO needs of high poverty students in resource poor communities First it draws attention to the importance of ELOs and offers contours of the ELT ELO partnerships through research evidence and policy analysis It then covers both in practice and features a spectrum of ELT ELO partnerships from less to more integrated models The issue pays close attention to The central role ELOs play in ELT schools The changing safeguards for community based organizations Ways in which current education policy is shaping the approach of schools and community partners to learning and development This is the 131st volume of New Directions for Youth Development the Jossey Bass quarterly report series dedicated to bringing together everyone concerned with helping young people including scholars practitioners and people from different disciplines and professions Time Briton Hadden, Henry R.
