Trade in Services International Trade Centre UNCTAD/WTO., 2001 Services have played an important role in world trade for centuries However in the past 40 years the focus of the services trade has shifted away from facilitating the trade in goods to trading in the services themselves Dramatic changes in communications and transportation technologies have made this possible While exporters of goods and services face similar challenges services exporters have to deal with unique issues many related to their intangible nature This guide addresses these issues and offers practical and relevant advice to small and medium sized enterprises to help them improve their export performance or enter new markets

International Trade in Services and Domestic Regulations Panagiotis Delimatsis, 2007-12-27 In 2005 the WTO Appellate body ruled that the United States total prohibition on cross border gambling services was unlawful under the General Agreement on Trade in Services GATS The questions raised by the case whether and how a Government could block service provision on moral grounds went to the heart of key controversies surrounding international economic law How do you reconcile a liberal system of international trade in services with national governments desire to protect social values through service regulation How much control are the WTO members willing to transfer to the WTO How much regulatory diversity can the international trading system withstand This book provides a comprehensive analysis of the regulation of services under the WTO s GATS Agreement Through a thorough examination of the GATS negotiation history substantive provisions judicial interpretation and ongoing reform process the book presents a clear picture of how the multilateral trading system justifies and tolerates regulatory diversity In this respect the book focuses on the core general principles of necessity and transparency which would allow the assessment of the consistency with the GATS of domestic regulations in services at a horizontal cross sectoral level In addition the book reviews with a critical eye the ongoing GATS negotiations on the creation of rules on domestic regulations

Business Guide to the General Agreement on Trade in Services Commonwealth Secretariat, 2000 The General Agreement on Trade in Services GATS is a historical agreement covering a wide range of international service transactions In support of further trade negotiations the Guide also highlights issues in which the business community may wish to provide input as preparations for trade negotiations move forward

Bilateral Trade in Services Ms. Nan Li, Sergii Meleshchuk, Qiuyan Yin, Dennis Zhao, Robert Zymek, 2025-08-15 This paper introduces the Bilateral Trade in Services BiTS database It draws on a range of sources to provide the broadest possible consistent coverage of bilateral services trade for the period 1985-2023 The database covers bilateral trade across 12 major services categories 9 of which are further disaggregated into 26 distinct subcategories all harmonized under a consistent BPM6 classification standard While historical data is only available for some advanced economies and emerging markets the bilateral flows contained in BiTS capture most of global services trade from 2000 onwards We illustrate the uses of this data through two research applications The first shows that gravity forces have become less powerful in explaining services trade patterns over time due to a shift in the composition of trade towards less distance sensitive services The second documents that overall services trade remains resilient to growing geopolitical fissures but that modern services appear more sensitive to geopolitical alignment than traditional services

Trade in Services Kalypso Nicolaidis, 1988 U.S. Foreign Trade in Services William H. Cooper, Rebecca M. Nelson, 2014-07-15 The term services refers to an expanding range of economic activities such as construction retail and wholesale sales e-commerce financial services professional services such as accounting and legal services transportation tourism and telecommunications They have become an important priority in U S foreign trade flows and trade policy and of global trade in general although their intangibility the requirement for direct buyer-provider contact and other characteristics have limited the types and volume of services that can be traded Congress is expected to consider in the future U S trade agreements currently under negotiation that include services as significant components

International Trade in Services Olivier Cattaneo, 2010 International trade in services also provides an assessment of how policy makers can further bolster their service industries by leveraging the changes prompted by technological advancements The book provides policy recommendations that include the reduction of barriers to services trade across all sectors and the promotion of health and environment related development policies that should be promoted in parallel with a burgeoning services market The first recommendation is considered the most important because it focuses on the need to ensure trade openness which helps ensure the access to services and promotes the quality of services provision through foreign and domestic competition Moreover the issue of temporary movement of labor is another focus of this book given that it is one of the most important means of service exports for developing countries This is an issue that is considered technically complex and politically sensitive because of its political and security implications The book examines mechanisms that have been used by various countries to liberalize the temporary movement of persons and concludes that regardless of the negotiating forum multilateral regional or bilateral the policy making results on temporary movement of labor are so far modest and limited to a small range of categories However it proposes alternative ways to move forward that require further analysis by countries and relevant international organizations including the World Bank The Accountant, 1924 WTO - Trade in Services Rüdiger Wolfrum, Peter-Tobias Stoll, Clemens Feinäugle, 2008-02-28 With the establishment of the WTO trade in services became part of the world trade order Volume 6 is dedicated to these rather recent developments It covers the core agreement the General Agreement on Trade in Services GATS with annexes as well as the additional instruments which have been adopted later on to govern the liberalization in specific sectors Those are the Understanding on Commitments in Financial Services the Second Protocol on Financial Services the Third Protocol on the Movement of Natural Persons the Fourth Protocol on Basic Telecommunications and the Fifth Protocol which contains further rules for financial services This volume will be a valuable reference tool for the WTO community as a whole as well as for professionals and researchers who deal with one of the sectors concerned e.g. financial services and telecommunications Furthermore it is highly relevant in view of those sectors which are the subject of ongoing liberalization efforts or earmarked for future negotiations namely accounting legal services transport tourism environmental services legal and educational services
