The Minor Railways of East Anglia Rob Shorland-Ball, 2020-10-19 A look at the minor railways in eastern England that were once busy transport links and made vital contributions to the social and business heritage Rob Shorland Ball is a former teacher and a born storyteller and so is well aware of the strong local loyalties in East Anglia Norfolk Suffolk and Essex are considered to be very different separate and independent areas by their inhabitants When the author worked in Suffolk he explained that he came from Cambridge which he believed was the front door of East Anglia An elderly Suffolk man to whom he was speaking paused for a while and then said with unarguable finality Here in Suffolk if Cambridge exists at all it is a back door and rarely used By the 1950s and 60s when the author explored the minor railways illustrated in this book they were rarely used so needed to be recorded and their stories told before they were forgotten entirely To bring this book up to date the final section is called Destiny because some of the track beds have survived and flourished with new usage as restored heritage railways footpaths and cycleways and one route as a busy busway A nostalgic look back at long forgotten minor railways in East Anglia Highly recommended Branch Line Light Railway Publications Flyer A brief history of each of the lines together with maps and period photographs that make this an interesting read for those unfamiliar with the minor railways of East Anglia Great Eastern Railway Society Newsletter

Dr Beeching's Axe 50 Years On Julian Holland, 2013-09-27 Julian Holland's Dr Beeching's Axe 50 Years On is a unique memorial to all that was lost following the publication of the Beeching Report on 27 March 1963 Uniquely the author has tried to include every railway line that was closed as a result of the Beeching Report and more They are all shown on Map 9 in Part 2 of the Report and have been annotated for clarity at the beginning of each regional chapter in the book. Needless to say it is not plain sailing there are lines that were marked for closure on the maps but were closed before publication of the Report there are lines that were not originally on Beeching's original hit list but which were closed anyway there are lines that were originally marked down for closure but which were fortunately reprieved. There are even one or two which seem to have not existed at all. The author has included them all.

The Times British Railways: The illustrated history of a national institution Julian Holland, Times Books, 2025-10-09. Written by best selling author Julian Holland this is the story of British Railways. From its birth in 1948 to its demise in 1994 it was both loved and loathed by the country's hard pressed travelling public most of whom didn't own a car. Take a trip down memory lane and discover the story of the rise and fall of a British institution.

British Railways 1948-73 T. R. Gourvish, N. Blake, 1986. Originally published in 1986 this is a business history of the first twenty five years of nationalised railways in Britain. Commissioned by the British Railways Board and based on the Board's extensive archives it fully analyses the dynamics of nationalised industry management and the complexities of the vital relationship with government. After exploring the origins of nationalisation the book deals with the organisation, financial performance, investment and commercial policies of the British Transport Commission 1948-2, Railway Executive 1948-53 and British Railways Board 1963-73. Calculations of profit and loss, investment and productivity are provided on a consistent basis for 1948-73. This business history thus represents a major contribution not only to the debate about the role of the railways in a modern economy but also to that concerning the nationalised industries which have proved to be one of the most enduring problems of the British economy since the war.

The Railways Simon Bradley, 2015-09-24. Sunday Times History Book of the Year 2015. Britain's railways have been a vital part of national life for nearly 200 years. Transforming lives and landscapes they have left their mark on everything from timekeeping to tourism. As a self-contained world governed by distinctive rules and traditions the network also exerts a fascination all its own. From the classical grandeur of Newcastle station to the ceaseless traffic of Clapham Junction, from the mysteries of Brunel's atmospheric railway to the lost routines of the great marshalling yards, Simon Bradley explores the world of Britain's railways: the evolution of the trains and the changing experiences of passengers and workers. The Victorians' private compartments, railway rugs and footwarmers have made way for air conditioned carriages with airline type seating but the railways remain a giant.

and diverse anthology of structures from every period and parts of the system are the oldest in the world Using fresh research keen observation and a wealth of cultural references Bradley weaves from this network a remarkable story of technological achievement of architecture and engineering of shifting social classes and gender relations of safety and crime of tourism and the changing world of work The Railways shows us that to travel through Britain by train is to journey through time as well as space
