John Mason Lightwood

The Possessed:

The Possessed and the Dispossessed Lesley A. Sharp, 1993 Sharp concludes this study with an analysis of how indigenous spirit mediums and Protestant exorcists treat extreme cases of possession and madness revealing contradictions inherent in cross cultural psychiatric praxis More generally the book challenges current views about possession and marginal status particularly in reference to gender and age insightful discussions of the lives of migrant adults and children as they seek relief Some personal and social ills make Sharp s investigation relevant to gender studies medical anthropology religion and ritual and the politics of culture as well as African and Madagascar studies Jacket The Possessor and the Possessed Peter Kivy, 2008-10-01 The concept of genius intrigues us Artistic geniuses have something other people don t have In some cases that something seems to be a remarkable kind of inspiration that permits the artist to exceed his own abilities It is as if the artist is suddenly possessed as if some outside force flows through him at the moment of creation In other cases genius seems best explained as a natural gift The artist is the possessor of an extra talent that enables the production of masterpiece after masterpiece This book explores the concept of artistic genius and how it came to be symbolized by three great composers of the modern era Handel Mozart and Beethoven Peter Kivy a leading thinker in musical aesthetics delineates the two concepts of genius that were already well formed in the ancient world Kivy then develops the argument that these concepts have alternately held sway in Western thought since the beginning of the eighteenth century He explores why this pendulum swing from the concept of the possessor to the concept of the possessed has occurred and how the concepts were given philosophical reformulations as views toward Handel Mozart and Beethoven as geniuses changed in the eighteenth nineteenth and twentieth centuries The Possession at Loudun Michel de Certeau, 2000-08 It is August 18 1634 Father Urbain Grandier convicted of sorcery that led to the demonic possession of the Ursuline nuns of provincial Loudun in France confesses his sins on the porch of the church of Saint Pierre then perishes in flames lit by his own exorcists A dramatic tale that has inspired many artistic retellings including a novel by Aldous Huxley and an incendiary film by Ken Russell the story of the possession at Loudun here receives a compelling analysis from the renowned Jesuit historian Michel de Certeau Interweaving substantial excerpts from primary historical documents with fascinating commentary de Certeau shows how the plague of sorceries and possessions in France that climaxed in the events at Loudun both revealed the deepest fears of a society in traumatic flux and accelerated its transformation In this tour de force of psychological history de Certeau brings to vivid life a people torn between the decline of centralized religious authority and the rise of science and reason wracked by violent anxiety over what or whom to believe At the time of his death in 1986 Michel de Certeau was a director of studies at the cole des hautes tudes en sciences sociales Paris He was author of eighteen books in French three of which have appeared in English translation as The Practice of Everyday Life The Writing of History and The Mystic Fable Volume 1 the last of which is published by The University of Chicago Press Brilliant and innovative The Possession at Loudun is de Certeau s most
