The Practice of Prayer (Classic Reprint) G. Campbell Morgan, 2017-09-08 G Campbell Morgan wrote the Practice of Prayer not just to recommend prayer but a full biblical underpinning to a habit of prayer and an acknowledgement of the Christian doctrine of the omniscient and omnipotent God In his life long distinguished career of biblical study Morgan was particularly struck by the passage where the disciples beseech Jesus Lord teach us to pray Reverend Morgan was both insistent that the modern church consider the necessity of wholehearted faithful prayer and the most appropriate way to achieve it He believed that the answers were furnished to the faithful by God but that the development of faith the knowledge of how to pray and even more importantly the appropriate attitude for worship were crucial to righteous worship In this work he explains his concept of the correct method Morgan examines each element of the trinity thoughtfully and explains in clear and poetic language the role that each element of the trinity plays in enabling the ideal practice of prayer He identifies a tantalising human emotionality in Christ the capacity for mercy in God and the inspiration for prayer that he attributes to the Holy Spirit He refuses bars to prayer and urges those who would receive the full benefit of prayer to eschew activities that would block them from periods of theological reflection in favour of a more reflective approach to faith As a prominent teacher theologian and minister Reverend Morgan s arguments about the ideal approach to the practice and theory of prayer reflect his experience and education as well as an emotional and moving account of spiritual closeness to God that he felt through prayer For those seeking to expand the meditative element of their worship this book will linger on in the mind About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes

The Practice of Prayer G. Morgan, 2016-05-15 NEVER did the disciples prefer a more important request than when they said Lord teach us to pray and no petition was more graciously answered The church to day needs to bring that petition first of all but she needs to do so remembering that she already has the answer in all spaciousness and clearness Whatever may have been the case with the first disciples it is certainly true of us that before we call He answers I have chosen as the general title of this book The Practice of Prayer because the purpose of its publication is preeminently practical Any discussion of the doctrine of prayer which does not issue in the practice of prayer is not only not helpful it is dangerous At the same time that practice will be greatly helped by an apprehension of the relative Christian doctrine That there is need for its consideration is granted on every hand Side by side with a great enrichment there is a wide spread impoverishment in the Church of God The consciousness of wealth creates the sense of poverty and it is because we rejoice in our gain that we mourn over our lack As to enrichment there can be no question that the church's appreciation of Jesus Christ is keener and more spacious to day than it has ever been There is to day a wide spread consciousness of the human Christ and this has brought assurance of His interest in all departments of human life Coincidentally with this there has arisen a conviction of His universality and while rejoicing as never in the warmth and nearness of the Flesh we have come to a larger apprehension of the infinitude of the Word In practical equipment for service too the Church in men in money and in methods is far in advance of any preceding age Yet in all these things there is a sense of lack and of poverty While the sense of the greatness of Christ is larger the ability to bring men into loving saving touch with Him sometimes seems less The men at His disposal are many but the Church lacks energy to send them forth Money is more freely given than ever and yet the greater part of the possessions of the saints is still retained for their own use The methods are multiplied and yet one cannot help the conviction that many of our organizations are fungus growths sapping the Church's life and contributing nothing to her fruitfulness We are profoundly conscious of lack Everywhere there is a double sense that of power and of paralysis We have heard the sound of the going in the top of the mulberry trees but the wind of God seems to tarry We saw the flaming of the bush among the

Welsh mountains a little while ago but we have seen it in England All about us are indifferent masses We still mourn the dearth of conversions and are painfully conscious of the languishing missionary spirit Where is the lack That is a larger question than it is the purpose of this book to discuss Nevertheless I think it may broadly be stated that the supreme need of the Church is the realization experimentally of her relationship to God by the Holy Spirit In the interaction of life and prayer will be found the secret of power and the realization of fellowship with God will never be more than a theory save as prayer becomes a practice I am particularly anxious to write nothing censorious or that fails in recognition of all the best things still to be found against us I am profoundly conscious that there is a great deal of prayer on the highest plane God has His intercessors everywhere They are to be found often in unexpected places in men and women who have learned the secret and who by familiar intercourse with God are channels of blessing to men but the majority of us are not praying While I thank God for the prayers being offered I feel that it is of the utmost importance that the whole Church should know the secret of prevailing prayer not only as a theory but in practice

The Evils of Theodicy Terrence W. Tilley, 2000-03-07

Creating a Life with God Daniel Wolpert, 2003-06-01 This book is truly about life with God a life in which the awareness and consciousness of God sweep us off our feet the way a lover would It is about taking on the mind of Christ a process that is a journey the journey of prayer So begins Wolpert s invitation to fully experience the lifeline God offers us in prayer Creating a Life with God goes beyond the rote prayers that so many of us have experienced and found wanting In fact Wolpert admits that his own frustration with the formula prayers and his unsettled longing immediately after college led to his search for a different kind of prayer one that s a deep conversation with God beginning with communion and leading to transformation Prayer illuminates our minds enabling the love of God to permeate all that we do The purpose of this book is to nourish a deeper more satisfying prayer life Wolpert explains 12 prayer practices and introduces you to historical figures who best illuminate each practice You ll discover new ways to pray through experiencing solititude and silence using your mind and imagination using your body and creativity connecting with nature and community You ll discover how classical approaches to God can deepen your prayer life today An appendix offers step by step instructions for practicing the Jesus Prayer and the prayer of examen for walking the labyrinth and more Creating a Life with God is suitable for both individual and small group study
