Citizen Challenges and Responsibility in an Interconnected World gives insight and perspectives on what it means to be a citizen in a global world from Norway's most distinguished scholars. It poses and answers important questions such as which duties and rights do we have as citizens in a globalized world, which institutions are just and sustainable, and how can a global ethic and a global worldview be reconciled with the fact that the lives of the greater part of the Earth's population is still local. Global Citizen Challenges and Responsibility in an Interconnected World draws on insights from philosophy, jurisprudence, theology, and the social sciences to shed light on this manifold and important topic with relevance for policy makers, stakeholders, academics, but most important for us as citizens who need to take both a political and personal decision on how to live as a citizen in a global world.

Unity in Diversity, 1991     Linguistic Diversity in Europe Patrick Studer, Iwar Werlen, 2012-05-29 This book, which emerges in the context of the European research network LINEE (Languages in a Network of European Excellence), is concerned with European multilingualism both as a political concept and as a social reality. It features cutting-edge studies by linguists and anthropologists who perceive multilingualism as a discursive phenomenon which can be revealed and analyzed through empirical fieldwork. The book presents a fresh perspective of European multilingualism as it takes the reader through key themes of social consciousness, identity, policy, education, economy, and relevant societal levels of organization: European, national, regional. With its distinct focus on post-national society, caught in unifying as well as diversifying socio-political currents, the volume problematizes emerging contradictions inherent in the idea of a Europe beyond the nation-state, between speech minorities and majorities, economic realities or socio-political ideologies.
