Test-Taking Strategies

To do well on any test, you must study hard and be prepared. You can further improve your test performance by being a good test-taker.

See if you can correctly answer these questions on test-taking strategies.

Multiple choice

- When answering multiple choice questions, it's best to
 - try to come up with the answer in your head before you look at the answer choices.
 - choose c if you don't know the answer.
 - cross out the choices you know are wrong and make an educated guess.
 - both a and c
- If you get stuck on a question or problem, it's best to
 - keep working until you figure it out.
 - skip it.
 - mark it and come back to it.
 - make a guess.
- On essay questions, it's best to start with
 - the easiest question.
 - the hardest question.
 - the first question.
 - any question—it doesn't matter.
- When answering a math problem, you should
 - not worry about showing your work.
 - spend as much time as you need on it.
 - estimate the answer before beginning the problem.
 - all of the above

True/false

- T F True/false questions with words like all, always, never, every, and none are usually true.
- T F If any part of a true/false question is false, the whole statement is false.
- T F True/false questions with words like usually, often, and sometimes are typically true.
- T F If you don't watch out for statements with double negatives, you won't get the right answers.

Answers are at the bottom of the page.

Tip: For statements with double negatives, eliminate both negatives and reread.

More test-taking strategies

Check the boxes of the test-taking strategies you regularly use.

- When you get your test, write memory clues and anything else you want to remember at the top.
- Look over the test and make a plan so that you don't run out of time.
- Don't spend too much time on a difficult question or problem. Mark it and come back to it later.
- For open-book tests, write down all the information you know you'll need on one sheet of paper. Also, put self-stick notes in your textbook to help you locate information quickly.
- Check your answers and use all of the time you're given.
