themes related to where to live in America not only about the acquisition of a home but also the ways in which where one lives relates to one's cultural identity. It shows how changes in media and information technology are shaping both our housing choices and our understanding of the meaning of personal place. The work is written using widely accessible language but supported by a strong academic foundation from information studies and other humanities and social science disciplines. Chapters analyze everyday information behavior related to questions about where to live. The eleven major chapters are: Chapter 1 Where to live as an information problem: three contemporary examples; Chapter 2 Turning in place: Real estate agents and the move from information custodians to information brokers; Chapter 3 The Evolving Residential Real Estate Information Ecosystem: The Rise of Zillow; Chapter 4 Privacy, Surveillance and the Smart Home; Chapter 5 This Old House: Fixer Upper and Better Homes Gardens; The Housing Crisis and Media Sources; Chapter 6 A Community Responds to Growth: An Information Story About What Makes for a Good Place to Live; Chapter 7 The Valley Between Us: The methodology of racial segregation in Milwaukee, Wisconsin; Chapter 8 Modeling Hope: Boundary Objects and Design Patterns in a Heartland Heterotopia; Chapter 9 Home buying in Everyday Life: How Emotion and Time Pressure Shape High Stakes Decisions: Information Behavior; Chapter 10 In Search of Home: Examining Information Seeking and Sources That Help African Americans Determine Where to Live; Chapter 11 Where to Live in Retirement: A Complex Information Problem. While the book is partly about the goal directed activity of individuals who want to buy a house and the infrastructure that supports that activity, it is also about personal activities that are either not goal directed or are directed at other goals such as deciding in which geographic location to live, personal entertainment, cultural understanding or identity formation.

The coastal city along the Atlantic Ocean has a population of just above 27,000 residents. This is despite its popularity as one of the best places to visit in the United States of America with an estimated number of 14 million visitors who arrive in the area every year. While the city only has 27,000 residents, the entire metropolitan area, which includes much of Horry County and Georgetown County in South Carolina and part of Brunswick County in North Carolina, has a population of more than 465,000 people. Because of the large number of tourists, most of the city's economy comes from a large number of hotels, resorts, and other attractions that are continuously developed, which range from entertainment, retail sales, and places to eat. While many people shy away from large tourist towns, there are plenty of things to enjoy as a potential permanent resident of Myrtle Beach. When it comes to the rates of utilities and other living expenses, Myrtle Beach has prided itself as one of the most cost-effective places to live in the United States, but that doesn't mean there isn't a lot to do in the area. For starters, Myrtle Beach is definitely a golfer's paradise with more than 100 different golf courses. With this plenty of golf courses, there is at least one golf course that fits everyone's abilities, ranging from Par 3 courses to those frequented by professional players in the Professional Golf Association (PGA) and other high-level tournaments. One of the top-rated courses in this area is the Dunes Golf and Beach Club, which features one of Golf Insider magazine's Top 25 courses with a rating of 8.8 out of 10.
