Teachers Constructing The Future:

: Teachers (1994) Kevin Harris, 2020-12-18 Originally published in 1994 Teachers Constructing a Future draws on sociological analysis philosophical insights and aspects of political economy to examine the changing and developing instrumental role of teachers in the context of the current transformation of western capitalism Teachers Constructing the Future Kevin Harris, 1994 The future of schooling and education and the role of schools and teachers in social reconstruction is critically examined The text shows great respect for and understanding of the position of teachers in contemporary society and is internationally orientated

Proceedings of the E-Learning and Smart Engineering Systems (ELSES 2024) Mohamed Khaldi, Mehdi Kaddouri, Mohamed Erradi, 2025-07-21 This is an open access book The second edition of the ELSES conference under the title Innovative Pedagogical Practices in the Era of Artificial Intelligence dedicated to innovation in pedagogical practices aims to be a platform for reflection exchange and discovery of the opportunities offered by the integration of AI in education In a world of constant technological evolution Artificial Intelligence has emerged as a transformative force capable of redefining the contours of learning and teaching Today we are committed to exploring the frontiers of this transformation discussing the challenges and envisioning the multiple possibilities offered by this convergence between education and technology During this international conference leading experts innovative researchers and key players in education will share their knowledge experience and innovative ideas Together we will explore the fascinating world of AI applied to education analyze its current impact and anticipate ways of integrating it judiciously and ethically into our educational practices We are convinced that this meeting represents a fundamental step towards catalyzing constructive dialogue stimulating innovation and forging an educational future where technology serves the development and education of everyone Constructing Futures Paul Chan, Rachel Cooper, 2010-09-29 There is growing interest in future scenario planning of the construction industry but a disconnect between thinking about the future at the policy making level and implementing real change Constructing Futures industry leaders and futures thinking in construction takes a thematic approach to the future of the UK construction industry by presenting the results of a series of in depth interviews conducted with leading construction figures and structuring this material into chapters addressing the key contemporary issues in the industry These high profile figures are drawn from a wide range of stakeholder groups representing the realities of construction including architects client organisations public sector and private sector consultants contractors developers lobby groups with special interests policy makers professional institutions and trade unions A total of 15 influential figures were interviewed for the book from Sir Michael Latham and Bob White to Wayne Hemmings and Kevin McCloud Part One looks to the past by reviewing a series of foresight studies undertaken of the construction industry and re presenting stories of our interviewees lives to explain the development of leadership in the context of the construction industry In Part Two the authors look at the present and discuss two fundamental issues sustainable development and governance of the construction industry In Part Three the book concludes with an afterthought for the future highlighting key lessons learnt putting forward a series of research questions derived from this scholarly reflection of futures thinking in construction Throughout the authors juxtapose the views of the 15 influential figures interviewed with a review of the salient points found in the relevant and authoritative sources of theoretical literature both in the mainstream literature and the field of construction management This allows the reader to benefit from the practical insights of those interviews whilst gaining a rapid understanding of the key debates of the theoretical subject under scrutiny

Teacher Motivation Paul W. Richardson, Stuart A. Karabenick, Helen M.G. Watt, 2014-05-30 Teacher Motivation Theory and Practice provides a much needed introduction to the current status and future directions of theory and research on teacher motivation Although there is a robust literature covering the theory and research on student motivation until recently there has been comparatively little attention paid to teachers This volume draws together a decade of work from psychological theorists and researchers interested in what motivates people to choose teaching as a career what motivates them as they work with students in classrooms the impact of intrinsic and extrinsic forces on career experiences and how their motivational profiles vary at different stages of their career With chapters from leading experts on the topic this volume provides a critical resource not only for educational psychologists but also for those working in related fields such as educational leadership teacher development policy makers and school psychology
