Teachers Make A Difference:

Teachers DO Make a Difference Judith A. Deiro, 2005 Acknowledging that teachers make a difference not only to what students learn about content but what they learn about life this volume offers discussion of topics including setting high expectations for students conveying confidence creating classroom rituals traditions much more

Teachers Make the Difference, 1997 Do Teachers Make a Difference? United States. Bureau of Educational Personnel Development, 1970 This collection of essays concerning recent research on pupil achievement focuses on the role of teachers The papers served as the basis of discussions during a day long conference in February 1970 at the Office of Education Topics included models of school effectiveness teacher quality teacher attitudes and policy implications While the state of research on the effects of teachers on pupil achievement is considered still primitive a few tentative indicators are held to be emerging From the papers in this collection one is led to believe that schools can and do make a difference in the development of youth Beyond this it is thought that teachers are the single most important element in the school The public policy implication is that more available resources must be devoted to the development of methods for recruiting preparing and utilizing quality educational personnel It is held that the fact that great numbers of children are not learning to read and are not receiving other basic tools essential for productive living demands that ways to make teachers administrators and all educational personnel more effective be found

The Role of the University in the Preparation of Teachers Robert A. Roth, 1999 This work addresses a subject of common interest in western countries that of the apparently diminishing role of universities in the education of teachers

The Role of the University in the Preparation of Teachers the late Robert Roth, 2005-08-04 Addresses a subject of common interest in developed countries the apparently diminishing role of universities in the education of teachers There is pressure to redesign teacher education an on going struggle between those who see the need to strengthen the knowledge base of teachers and those who favour learning on the job there is a perceived need to define precisely what teachers need to know and be able to do and at the same time there is relaxation of entry standards for students entering the profession in an attempt to relieve the chronic shortage of teachers This situation is prevalent in the USA in the UK Europe and Australia The struggle over who should control the preparation of teachers is the significant emerging issue in education and could change the whole structure of the teacher preparation

Teachers Make a Difference Thomas L. Good, Bruce Jesse Biddle, Jere E. Brophy, 1975 Teachers Make a Difference Teacher Training Agency, 1996*

Teacher Change and Development Paula R. Villia, 2006 If the future of any society can be pinpointed it is with the teachers who help form the citizens of tomorrow Sometimes their impact is equal to the parents and sometimes surpasses it by not a small measure But how must teachers change to be sure that they move with the times and do not lose that role in society This book delves into this issue
