Tracking And Trailing:

Tracking dogs Roland Berger, 2022-04-15 Tracking or Mantrailing in a slightly different form is a useful activity for your dog. Actually you do not have to teach him much here because your dog can sniff quite certainly and he also does day after day with every walk. So why do you need to train your dog in tracking? Well tracking work is a bit more profound. You yourself or another person lay a track for your dog to follow. But of course not somehow because there are rules for this. You can even take certain exams to be able to lead your dog as a recognized tracking or rescue dog. For mantrailing similar rules apply but here no artificially laid track is followed by your four legged friend but the dog is trained so that he can follow the scent of a very specific person and thus for example find a missing person. The contents of the book are: The tracking work, The tracking training, Difficulties in nature, Mantrailing and ID tracking, The trail, The examination to the recognized tracking dog, Learning tips, Conclusion. Can your dog do it? Most definitely there are very few exceptions where this sport should be avoided. These will be explained to you in this guide. In addition you will learn how to train your tracking dog to be a tracking dog and what you need to do it. You will get all the background information you need to take your fdog on the trail. Enjoy reading, learning and training.

K9 Trailing the Straightest Path Jeff Schettler, 2011-10 Constant failure is not an option for me nor should it be for any handler interested in saving lives and solving crime. There was a time when I did not know what success in trailing was and I had to take a serious look at my training protocols. The Straightest Path is nothing more than a simple and honest path to good trailing training based not only on all of my experience in the field being successful but also all of my failures. There can be no growth without both. I will outline my method for working trailing dogs step by step and with only one goal in mind: finding people. This program was designed for anyone handling a trailing dog and I have been teaching it now for over a decade. It is important to offer to others what was so generously given to me by many of the great handlers of the past and present. Follow me if you dare to a path less traveled.

another option that option is to call in someone nearby with a trained blood tracking dog YOU These dogs can find deer that human hunters might walk right by They are able to scent trail deer even when there is no blood at all to follow A trained tracking dog can lead its handler to a deer even several days after it was shot And that is what this book is all about getting you started on training a dog that can cut your deer tracking time in half and increase your recovery rate by 80 or 90 percent Basically training almost any dog to blood trail is simple It s so simple in fact that I can sum it up in just a few paragraphs You don t have to own a hound to train your own tracking dog Any breed with the nose to follow a trail can be trained I have seen everything from labs to Jack Russell terriers to dachshunds trained to trail deer I personally have a black lab named Tilly and a heeler shepherd mix named Diamond Cut In short you would start out your training by making a game of it You could use a strip of bacon or a piece of calf liver tied to a string as your first scent marker To make sure the dog is following the calf liver or bacon scent and not yours tie the string to the end of a long pole to drag it well away from your own scent trail As your dog become more adept at following the trail you should start to make it more difficult by hopping the calf liver or bacon strip along the ground and lifting it for several feet between touches Getting your dog fully trained to blood trail takes a lot of time and patience But knowing how to get the dog motivated to track and stay with the right line from the beginning really pays off when working with hunters to recover their harvest The best teacher is time spent with the dog and a lot of it Time spent in the field tracking through the season and training the rest of the year This is what it takes to form a bond And that bond is strengthen and reinforced in life s journey with your blood trail dog If I gave you no more information than what s above you would have enough to get your dog started with blood trailing But in reality there is a lot more to be learned about tracking with a dog So let s get started now to build a complete training course for your new blood trailing student
