Sledging Into History:

Five Thousand Miles in a Sledge Lionel Francis Gowing, 1890      Roald Amundsen's Sled Dogs Mary R. Tahan, 2019-01-04 This book is an analytical account of how Roald Amundsen used sledge dogs to discover the South Pole in 1911 and is the first to name and identify all 116 Polar dogs who were part of the Norwegian Antarctic Expedition of 1910-1912. The book traces the dogs from their origins in Greenland to Antarctica and beyond and presents the author's findings regarding which of the dogs actually reached the South Pole and which ones returned. Using crewmember diaries, reports, and written correspondence, the book explores the strategy, methodology, and personal insights of the explorer and his crew in employing canines to achieve their goal, as well as documents the controversy and internal dynamics involved in this historic discovery. It breaks ground in presenting the entire story of how the South Pole was truly discovered using animals and how deep and profound the differences of perception were regarding the use of canines for exploration. This historic tale sheds light on Antarctic exploration history and the human-nature relationship. It gives recognition to the significant role that animals played in this important part of history.

The Home of the Blizzard Being the Story of the Australasian Antarctic Expedition, 1911-1914 Douglas Mawson, 2010-01-08 Mawson turned down an invitation to join Robert Falcon Scott's Terra Nova Expedition in 1910. Australian geologist Griffith Taylor went instead. Dawson chose to lead his own expedition, the Australian Antarctic Expedition to King George V Land and Adelie Land, the sector of the Antarctic continent immediately south of Australia, which at the time was almost entirely unexplored. The objectives were to carry out geographical exploration and scientific studies, including visiting the South Magnetic Pole.

web dec 24 2019 summary the dialectic of enlightenment is worth reading because and not despite the seeming absurdity of its central claim the history of humanity is one of regress rather than progress furthermore the culprit for this regress is the pride of modernity our increased ability to control and manipulate the external world
