Titan, 1857      Of Death and Grief S. T. Kimbrough, 2018-01-30 This little book of poems reveals how the author has dealt with the grief that accompanied the death of his wife of fifty nine years The poems are a conversation on the journey through the grieving process which perhaps has no end Yes they are permeated with a deep faith that there is more to life than merely living and dying At the same time they are honest responses to how painful it is to lose your life partner Many of the poems are autobiographical about first encounter marriage life and love together and death The actual physical occurrence of death can be readily described by physicians but its emotional and life effect is much more illusory Without question these poems are simply one person s response to death and grief They provide no decisive answers on how to respond to either but if one s open and honest response can help others address such challenges so be it The goal of the author is not to provide steps for the grieving rather through poetry to share the thoughts of the heart and mind as they grapple with death and grief He avers that through the very difficult process of grieving which may never completely end love alone is the key to healing and renewal      Mortality, with Friends Fleda Brown, 2021-09-07 A collection of intensely personal lyrical essays about mortality living well art and love Mortality With Friends is a collection of lyrical essays from Fleda Brown a writer and caretaker of her father and sometimes her husband who lives with the nagging uneasiness that her cancer could return Memoir in feel the book muses on the nature of art of sculpture of the loss of bees and trees the end of marriages and among other things the loss of hearing and of life itself Containing twenty two essays Mortality With Friends follows the cascade of loss with the author s imminent joy in opening a path to track her own growing awareness and wisdom In Donna Brown examines a childhood friendship and questions the roles we need to play in each other s lives to shape who we might become In Native Bees Brown expertly weaves together the threads of a difficult family tradition intended to incite happiness with the harsh reality of current events In Fingernails Toenails she marvels at the attention and suffering that accompanies caring for our aging bodies In Mortality with Friends Brown dives into the practical and stupefying response to her own cancer and survival In 2019 Becoming Mrs Ramsay she remembers the ghosts of her family and the strident image of herself positioned in front of her Northern Michigan cottage Comparable to Lia Purpura s essays in their density and poetics Brown s intent is to look closely to stay with the moment and the image Readers with a fondness for memoir and appreciation for art will be dazzled by the beauty of this collection      The Book of Common Prayer, and Administration of the Sacraments; and Other Rites and Ceremonies of the Church, 1862      A Glossary A.R.
