

SOCIAL INTEGRATION

The process by which newcomers are incorporated into a society. It differs from assimilation because integration does not require losing your unique cultural identity.

DEFINITION

Woolcock defines social integration as:

"the process by which individuals become incorporated into the social and economic fabric of a community, region or nation, and the extent to which they participate in the major institutions and activities of that community" (1998)

EXAMPLE

Friendships

Friendships, the personal connections between individuals, are usually seen as an important measure of social integration as they promote understanding and acceptance of diversity. By making friends, you also increase your social capital, giving you the connections to help navigate future social situations.

Alexis de Tocqueville and the Art of Democratic Statesmanship Brian Danoff, Louie Joseph Hebert, 2011-01-01 In 1835 Alexis de Tocqueville famously called for a new political science that could address the problems and possibilities of a world itself quite new For Tocqueville the democratic world needed not just a new political science but also new arts of statesmanship and leadership In this volume Brian Danoff and L Joseph Hebert Jr have brought together a diverse set of essays revealing that Tocqueville's understanding of democratic statesmanship remains highly relevant today The first chapter of the book is a new translation of Tocqueville's 1852 address to the Academy of Moral and Political Sciences in which Tocqueville offers a profound exploration of the relationship between theory and practice and between statesmanship and political philosophy Subsequent chapters explore the relationship between Tocqueville's ideas on statesmanship on the one hand and the ideas of Plato Aristotle Machiavelli Montesquieu the Puritans the Framers of the U S Constitution Oakeshott Willa Cather and the Second Vatican Council on the other Timely and provocative these essays show the relevance of Tocqueville's theory of statesmanship for thinking about such contemporary issues as the effects of NGOs on civic life the powers of the American presidency the place of the jury in a democratic polity the role of religion in public life the future of democracy in Europe and the proper balance between liberalism and realism in foreign policy
