Dynamic Process Methodology in the Social and Developmental Sciences Jaan Valsiner,Peter C. M. Molenaar,Maria C.D.P. Lyra,Nandita Chaudhary,2009-07-09 All psychological processes like biological and social ones are dynamic Phenomena of nature society and the human psyche are context bound constantly changing and variable This feature of reality is often not recognized in the social sciences where we operate with averaged data and with homogeneous stereotypes and consider our consistency to be the cornerstone of rational being Yet we are all inconsistent in our actions within a day or from one day to the next and much of such inconsistency is of positive value for our survival and development Our inconsistent behaviors and thoughts may appear chaotic yet there is generality within this highly variable dynamic The task of scientific methodologies qualitative and quantitative is to find out what that generality is It is the aim of this handbook to bring into one framework various directions of construction of methodology of the dynamic processes that exist in the social sciences at the beginning of the 21st century This handbook is set up to bring together pertinent methodological scholarship from all over the world and equally from the quantitative and qualitative orientations to methodology In addition to consolidating the pertinent knowledge base for the purposes of its further growth this book serves the major educational role of bringing practitioners students researchers and professionals interested in applications the state of the art know how about how to think about extracting evidence from single cases and about the formal mathematical statistical tools to use for these purposes A Dynamic Systems Approach to Adolescent Development Saskia Kunnen,2012-12-06 The dynamic systems approach is a rapidly expanding advancement in the study of developmental research particularly in the domain of adolescent development It provides a unique way of examining the subject and this innovative study of developmental processes helps social scientists to translate dynamic systems conceptualizations into clear empirical research that readers will be able to implement themselves The first part of this edited book discusses techniques that describe and assess specific process characteristics such as variability sudden jumps and attractor states The second part explores the different techniques for building a dynamic systems model which can simulate the behaviour of a system to investigate the mechanisms behind the processes Each chapter describes one technique and is based on a specific practical example of its application in adolescent development Step by step instructions for model building and examples of ready made models are provided on the website that belongs to the book www.psyppress.com/dynamic-systems-approach This book provides a clear step by step description of theories and techniques that are designed for the study of developmental processes and is therefore ideal for researchers of developmental psychology who do not specialise in statistics or research methods

Resources for Developmental Ecological Psychology: Organicism, Epigenetics, Relational Development, Dynamic Systems Catherine E. Read, Agnes Szokolszky, Iris Nomikou, Lisette De Jonge-Hoekstra, 2026-03-12 The intersection of Developmental Psychology and Ecological Psychology has been explored in various ways over the last fifty years. Several approaches have arisen that examine development within the context of the physical and social environment, including the ecological approach to perception (James and Eleanor Gibson and colleagues), the epigenetic approach to development (Gottlieb and colleagues), the contextual approach to development (e.g., Bronfenbrenner and colleagues), interactional dynamic approaches (e.g., Trevarthen), complex dynamic systems approaches to various developmental areas (e.g., Thelen), and how to define ecology. 2 How is your ecological approach central to your work? 3 What resources in theory or method have helped advance your work? 4 What resources do you see that would be helpful in the future? 5 To what extent do you think development and ecology are interdependent? 6 What aspect of a different approach might be valuable for your own research? Types of manuscripts: Original research, Systematic review, Brief research report, Methods Review, Theory Perspective.

The Social Developmental Construction of Violence and Intergroup Conflict Jorge Vala, Sven Waldzus, Maria Manuela Calheiros, 2016-08-18 This book describes how the violent dimension of intergroup relations can be better understood if the interplay between psychological and social developmental factors is taken into account. Ten unique innovative and original chapters by international scholars of social and developmental psychology address the way how social reality is constructed as a hierarchical order and how social norms, beliefs, and cognitive behavioral patterns are learned, shared, and repeatedly processed on how to uphold or challenge this social order. The volume covers diverse issues such as the effects or lack thereof of power and violent video games on people's thinking and behavior, the acquisition of social norms and attitudes during childhood, minorities, identity management strategies, the role of mothers' educational beliefs, and the impact of ideologies. This volume is inspired by the oeuvre of Maria Benedicta Monteiro, emphasizing the psychogenetic and sociogenic diacronies that are too often neglected by the predominantly synchronic paradigm of social psychology. It is therefore an indispensable reading for researchers and advanced students in social, community, and developmental psychology, for scientifically interested practitioners working with families, school contexts, or intergroup conflict, and for everyone interested in the expanding field of the social developmental approaches to attitudes and behaviour.
