

Understanding Values

Values are the principals or ideals we hold as important, good, desirable, or worthwhile. They are our basic and fundamental beliefs that are closely linked to our identity and they guide or motivate our attitudes and behaviours. Values are usually stated as a word or short phrase and are usually positive. Complete the following individual and group exercises to demonstrate your understanding of the different types of values.

Activity 1 - Personal Values

Individually, place the values from the columns on the next page onto the pyramid below, organising them into a hierarchy with the things you value most at the top and the things you value least at the bottom. If there are any other things you value highly that aren't on the list, feel free to add them in to your hierarchy!

Acceptance	Family	Justice	Religion
Adventure	Fairness	Kindness	Respect
Artistic expression	Fitness	Knowledge	Safety
Beauty	Fame	Leadership	Self-discipline
Community	Friendship	Life	Simplicity
Compassion	Freedom of Speech	Love	Skill or Talent
Courage	Fun	Loyalty	Sport
Creativity	Generosity	Manners	Strength (physical)
Discipline	Health	Mercy	Success
Diversity	Helping Others	Open-mindedness	Tolerance
Education	Honesty	Ownership	Tradition
Entertainment	Humour	Peace	Trust
Environment	Individuality	Popularity	Wealth
Equality	Independence	Power	Work Ethic

Løvaas, Stephen Sirris, 2020-02-14 At the core of institutional theories values is a central term and figures in most definitions however it remains understudied and under explored The editors of this open access book identify a resurgence of interest in the values construct which underpins discussions of identity ethos and the purpose nature of public and civic welfare provision Considering the importance of values and values work to social material and symbolic work in organizations individual chapters explore values work as performed in organizations and by leaders Focusing on practices of values work the book applies and combines different theoretical lenses exemplified by the integration of institutional perspectives with micro level perspectives and approaches Understanding Skills Robin Barrow, 2015-06-18 It is widely agreed that education should involve the development of understanding critical thinking imagination and emotions However this book first published in 1990 argues that our views to these key concepts are confused and inaccurate and therefore what we do in schools is generally inappropriate to our ideal This book will be of interest to students of education and philosophy

Gadamer Georgia Warnke, 1987 The essays address the following questions How and under what conditions has our culture come to represent the individual What characterizes individualistic ideology and the social economic and political systems within which it has emerged What is the role of the individual within them What have been the major challenges to individualism What aspects of contemporary thought and research point to new ways of thinking about the individual

Teacher as Activator of Learning Gayle H. Gregory, 2016-02-11 Flip the Switch How to Get Students Into Learning Mode Now In his well known meta analysis John Hattie suggests that facilitating learning is not as effective or powerful as activating learning In this book Gayle Gregory shows you how to facilitate better and deeper learning Packed with practical strategies that teachers can use every day to increase student achievement you will also discover what educational neuroscience says about nurturing a growth mindset and creating classrooms that support and encourage students to take risks and fail forward Learn how to Foster student dialogue and thinking Orchestrate productive reflective flexible student groups Develop respectful learning relationships between and among students and teachers Teacher competencies and clarity related to student goals and success criteria with quality feedback are essential for student success This resource will enrich learning environments for students and increase the chance of success for all In going from teachers as fount of knowledge to teacher as facilitator the field has overcorrected Gayle Gregory corrects all that with a comprehensive and deep portrayal of the need for teachers to be activators of learning in partnership with students Based on equal measure of research and practice Gregory gives is a compelling set of ideas and tools to maximize student learning and engagement Read it and hit the ground running Michael Fullan Professor Emeritus OISE University of Toronto Epistemic Value Adrian Haddock, Alan Millar (Ph.
