Liszt Ferenc: A Complete Thematic Catalogue Leslie Howard, Minkyu Kim [한국어], Aidan Módica, Michael Short, 2025-02-20 The first catalogues of Liszt's oeuvre were published during his own lifetime In 1855 the Thematisches Verzeichniss appeared in print but this included only a selection of his published works An expanded version was issued in 1877 although it was still missing many published compositions After Liszt's death in 1886 it took a long time for there to be any serious scholarship focused on cataloguing the vast quantity of music by this prolific composer The German composer Peter Raabe compiled the first exhaustive work list in 1931 revised by Felix Raabe in 1968 In England Humphrey Searle's 1954 catalogue for Grove's Dictionary of Music introduced S numbers which neatly organised Liszt's works by genre This system of S numbers quickly became the standard for identifying and cross referencing the music of Liszt both in academic circles and by general musicians In 2001 Maria Eckhardt and Rena Charnin Mueller introduced a new system with LW numbers in The New Grove Dictionary though its complexities and omissions have limited its use The current Thematic Catalogue by Leslie Howard Minkyu Kim Aidan Módica and Michael Short is an attempt to preserve and amplify the work list in a comprehensive and comprehensible way retaining and extending the Searle enumeration The thematic catalogue organises all of Liszt's works including original compositions transcriptions alternative versions and missing or doubtful works It retains Searle numbers for continuity while expanding the list with newly discovered works to ensure a complete and coherent reference provides a connected view of multiple versions transcriptions and revisions with cross references ensuring no version is overlooked or misrepresented includes full thematic incipits for all works making identification of Liszt's pieces easier documents all known manuscripts first editions and revisions along with detailed references to Liszt's correspondence and significant scholarly articles offering essential historical context for research

The Via Crucis Shawn Small, 2008 Combining scripture storytelling quotations and personal reflection The Via Crucis draws readers into a heartfelt and inspiring contemplation of Jesus' sacrifice and His triumphant victory over death Evocative charcoal illustrations and raw vivid stories voiced by those present at Christ's trial and crucifixion capture the pain power and passion of the Savior's suffering on humanity's behalf

Via Dolorosa Florian Kolffhaus, 2014-02 Jesus suffers because He wants to make us loving persons He calls us to the imitation of the Cross because He seeks our friendship Praying the way of the cross is not just an expression of piety which will bring tears to the eyes of a pious soul contemplating from a safe distance the suffering of Jesus and one's neighbour No it is an invitation to follow along the same path The goal is to let Jesus speak to me personally then to climb up the Via Dolorosa of my own life With him this sorrowful street transforms into a Via Amoris a loving route at the end of which I can discern that no suffering is meaningless if it is accepted with a spark of love Life is not about existing by the skin of one's teeth but about finding salvation     Back to the Core Emma Cohen de Lara, Hanke Drop, 2020-10-06 Whereas liberal arts and sciences education arguably has European roots European universities have evolved over the last century to become advanced research institutions mainly offering academic training in specialized disciplines The Bologna process started by the European Union in the late nineties encouraged European institutions of higher education to broaden their curricula and to commit to undergraduate education with increased vigor One of the results is that Europe is currently witnessing a proliferation of liberal arts and sciences colleges and broad bachelor degrees This edited volume fills a gap in the literature by providing reflections on the recent developments in Europe with regard to higher education in the liberal arts and sciences The first section includes reflections from either side of the Atlantic about the nature and aims of liberal arts and sciences education and the way in which it takes shape or should take shape in European institutions of higher learning The edited volume takes as a distinct approach to liberal arts and sciences education by focusing on the unique way in which core texts i e classic texts from philosophical historical literary or cultural traditions involving the best that has been written meet the challenges of modern higher education in general and in Europe in particular This approach is manifested explicitly in the second section that focuses on how specific core texts promote the goals of liberal arts and sciences education including the teaching methods curricular reflections and personal experiences of teaching core texts The edited volume is based on a selection of papers presented at a conference held in Amsterdam the Netherlands in September 2015 It is meant to impart the passion that teachers and administrators share about developing the liberal arts and sciences in Europe with the help of core texts in order to provide students with a well rounded formative and genuinely liberal education     The Liturgy Documents, Volume Four Mark E. Brave Men and Women: Their Struggles, Failures and Triumphs Osgood E. Fuller, 2016-08-02 Struggle failure triumph while triumph is the thing sought struggle has its joy and failure is not without its uses It is not the goal says Jean Paul but the course which makes us happy The law of life is what a great orator affirmed of oratory Action action action As soon as one point is gained another and another presents itself It is a mistake says Samuel Smiles to suppose that men succeed through success they much oftener succeed through failure He cites among others the example of Cowper who through his diffidence and shyness broke down when pleading his first cause and lived to revive the poetic art in England and that of Goldsmith who failed in passing as a surgeon and yet wrote the Deserted Village and the Vicar of Wakefield Even when one turns to no new course how many failures as a rule mark the way to triumph and brand into life as with a hot iron the lessons of defeat
