Crime and its Social Context Terance D. Miethe, Robert Frank Meier, 1994-01-01 Theories of criminality and theories of victimization have traditionally been discussed as though they bore no relationship to one another Yet a complete explanation for crime must examine both the decision to engage in crime by an offender and the everyday actions of ordinary citizens that increase vulnerability to criminals The integration of these approaches yields testable models that have greater predictive power than could be obtained by looking only at models of offenders or models of victim behavior A more general perspective that accounts for both the decision to engage in crime and the selection of particular crime targets is developed and tested

Victim Assistance Thomas L. Underwood, Christine Edmunds, 2003 Based on the acclaimed professional certificate program Advanced Institute on Victim Studies Critical Analysis of Victim Assistance this book identifies core content areas essential for practitioners working with crime victims Recognizing the multidisciplinary multisystem field that encompasses victim assistance the contributors present a solid foundation of the varying concepts and theories on victims and victims services The balance of the text addresses the skills and strategies needed to enhance services to victims at the individual organizational and societal levels Each chapter concludes with an analysis and application section including representative scenarios and key questions for review

Reporting Crime: Effects of social context on the decision of victims to notify the police Heike Goudriaan, 2006

Phishing and Countermeasures Markus Jakobsson, Steven Myers, 2006-12-05 Phishing and Counter Measures discusses how and why phishing is a threat and presents effective countermeasures Showing you how phishing attacks have been mounting over the years how to detect and prevent current as well as future attacks this text focuses on corporations who supply the resources used by attackers The authors subsequently deliberate on what action the government can take to respond to this situation and compare adequate versus inadequate countermeasures

Weitekamp, Hans-Jürgen Kerner, 2003 Moves beyond a focus on restorative justice for juveniles to a broader concern with the application of restorative justice in such areas as corporate crime family violence and the application of restorative justice in cases of extreme violent crimes The contexts examined are drawn from Europe North America Australasia and Japan Back cover

Victim-Centred Peacemaking Roddy Brett, 2025-12-09 Based on unique empirical research into Colombia's Santos FARC EP peace process 2012-2016 this book interrogates how if at all survivors and victims may assert agency and contribute to formal peacemaking and transitional justice initiatives The book argues that victim inclusion meaningfully transformed victim perpetrator relations and dynamics in Havana while partially shaping the content of both the Victims Agreement and Final Agreement As such the delegations created paths for empowerment at the individual and in part collective levels However victim inclusion also precipitated experiences of victim depoliticization revictimization retraumatization and instrumentalization Drawing on insights from across academic disciplines the book proposes an instrumentalization empowerment spectrum to analyse the complex impact of victim centred approaches to peacemaking transitional justice and is valuable for both researchers and practitioners

Transnational Networks and Justice in the Global South Tonny Raymond Kirabira, 2025-11-11 This book contributes new insights into the construction and implementation of global justice across different constituencies in the Global South In particular it investigates the impact of NGOs and victims representatives on redress mechanisms for mass atrocities and violence using the scholarly field of transitional justice By utilising this scholarly lens the book is able to draw into a wide range of discussions and mechanisms aimed at addressing mass violence and armed conflict in the Global South These discussions are in line with the central question of how NGOs impact on the legitimacy of transitional justice processes The book thus examines the question analytically and empirically using the theory of legitimacy as one of the ways in which to explain the power dynamics of global justice and institutions It offers significant contributions to the existing literature on legitimacy in transitional justice with country case specific examples of Uganda and Myanmar While the book is broadly framed within the scholarly field of transitional justice it draws on two branches of international law International Human Rights Law IHRL and International Criminal Law ICL It also benefits from scholarship in the field of international relations to explicate the legitimacy and institutional power of NGOs and international courts These disciplines are converged through the literature review and analysis The book will make a new contribution by adding empirical data on NGO work in transitional justice from two case studies The thrust of the argument is that NGOs either enhance or reduce the legitimacy of transitional justice mechanisms The concept of legitimacy will be used to analyse the way in which transitional justice is implemented
