London's Women Teachers Dina Copelman,2013-12-16 Dina Copelman's investigation of the public and private lives of women teachers reveals a strikingly different model of gender and class identity than the orthodox one constructed by historians of middle class gender roles and middle class feminism Consequently while the book focuses on women teachers from the beginning of state education in 1870 up to 1930 it is also an examination of how gender class and professional identities were shaped and perceived While offering a significant original contribution to the social history of teachers this book is also driven by a consideration of broader historiographical questions Victorian London Through Time Colin Manton,2017-06-15 This fascinating selection of photographs and illustrations shows the many ways in which London has changed and developed since Victorian times City of Dreadful Delight Judith R. Walkowitz,1992-10-15 From tabloid exposes of child prostitution to the grisly tales of Jack the Ripper narratives of sexual danger pulsed through Victorian London Expertly blending social history and cultural criticism Judith Walkowitz shows how these narratives reveal the complex dramas of power politics and sexuality that were being played out in late nineteenth century Britain and how they influenced the language of politics journalism and fiction Victorian London was a world where long standing traditions of class and gender were challenged by a range of public spectacles mass media scandals new commercial spaces and a proliferation of new sexual categories and identities In the midst of this changing culture women of many classes challenged the traditional privileges of elite males and asserted their presence in the public domain An important catalyst in this conflict argues Walkowitz was W T Stead's widely read 1885 article about child prostitution Capitalizing on the uproar caused by the piece and the volatile political climate of the time women spoke of sexual danger articulating their own grievances against men inserting themselves into the public discussion of sex to an unprecedented extent and gaining new entree to public spaces and journalistic practices The ultimate manifestation of class anxiety and gender antagonism came in 1888 with the tabloid tales of Jack the Ripper In between there were quotidian stories of sexual possibility and urban adventure and Walkowitz examines them all showing how women were not simply figures in the imaginary landscape of male spectators but also central actors in the stories of metropolotin life that reverberated in courtrooms learned journals drawing rooms street corners and in the letters columns of the daily press A model of cultural history this ambitious book will stimulate and enlighten readers across a broad range of interests Hunger on the Stage Elisabeth Angel-Perez,Alexandra Poulain,2009-10-02 In his short story The Hunger Artist Kafka imagined the theatrical career of a professional faster whose performance consists merely in displaying his own starving body before an avid audience Kafka thus paradoxically suggested that hunger mere emptiness working its way through declining bodies may be a privileged theatrical object Hunger often signals an anchorage in socio historical reality and invites extreme situations on stage articulating large scale cataclysms famines the devastation of war with personal tragedies hunger strikes anorexia etc in which characters experience the tenuousness of their own lives Whether in the comic or in the tragic mode staged hunger metaphorizes various kinds of starvation material greed spiritual emotional sexual starvation and even linguistic insufficiency This volume explores the aesthetic and ethical issues raised by hunger on the stage in the English speaking world It investigates the paradox of the hypervisibility of the thinning body and shows how throughout history hunger has given shape to innovative powerfully transgressive dramaturgies Victorian Architecture James Stevens Curl,2007 Although more than a century has passed since the end of the Victorian era the great achievements of the period 1837 1901 are grossly undervalued Phrases such as Victorian monstrosity are bandied about by many who ought to know better Professor Curl s robustly argued and beautifully illustrated book shows that the Victorians produced confident colourful rumbustiously eclectic architecture and that they went further than anyone since Roman times to potty train Urban Man He deals with the palette of styles available to the Victorians unprecedented building types new materials ecclesiastical buildings that arguably were superior to mediaeval exemplars the responses of a vital society to contemporary challenges and puts the built fabric firmly within the context of the intellectual complexities of the age Wearing his learning lightly he presents his case with grace gusto and elegance bringing the Victorian period to new life in a work which will give readers much to ponder savour and enjoy Capital Offenses Simon Joyce,2003 By 1900 crime appears as a distinctively modern problem requiring large scale solutions and government intervention in place of an older approach rooted in personal morality or philanthropic paternalism Victorian London Liza Picard,2014-01-28 To Londoners the years 1840 to 1870 were years of dramatic change and achievement As suburbs expanded and roads multiplied London was ripped apart to build railway lines and stations and life saving sewers The Thames was contained by embankments and traffic congestion was eased by the first underground railway in the world A start was made on providing housing for the deserving poor There were significant advances in medicine and the Ragged Schools are perhaps the least known of Victorian achievements in those last decades before universal state education In 1851 the Great Exhibition managed to astonish almost everyone attracting exhibitors and visitors from all over the world But there was also appalling poverty and exploitation exposed by Henry Mayhew and others For the laboring classes pay was pitifully low the hours long and job security nonexistent Liza Picard shows us the physical reality of daily life in Victorian London She takes us into schools and prisons churches and cemeteries Many practical innovations of the time flushing lavatories underground railways umbrellas letter boxes driving on the left point the way forward But this was also at least until the 1850s a city of cholera outbreaks transportation to Australia public executions and the workhouse where children could be sold by their parents for as little as 12 and streetpeddlers sold sparrows for a penny tied by the leg for children to play with Cruelty and hypocrisy flourished alongside invention industry and philanthropy Life in Victorian London Lewis Charles Bernard Seaman,1973 The Chautauquan ,1911 Catalogue of Music British Museum,1891 Summerson and Hitchcock Frank E.
