Integrated Key Management Solution Features Biometric Authorization

The Westfield name in retail is synonymous with prestigious properties that offer an efficient and dynamic environment for retailers and a quality shopping experience for consumers. With a portfolio of 104 shopping centers globally, Westfield is also a leader in ensuring the protection and safety of staff and contractors in back-of-house and operational areas using state-of-the-art security technology.

Improving Protection and Safety

With thousands of staff and contractors working in the centers across Australia, Westfield management identified a clear need for an efficient and secure system that would allow all workers safe and easier access to and from authorized center locations. To resolve this need, the organization implemented a pioneering key control and management solution with fingerprint biometrics. The system allows pre-approved personnel more streamlined access to and from authorized center locations and provides management with comprehensive monitoring and report functionality.

The solution, developed for Westfield by Blue Glue® and Morse Australia, is based on Morse Watchmans' KeyWatcher® key control and management system, integrated with the NoWAIT (National Work Authorization and Induction Training) fingerprint recognition system.

"Key control and management is an essential element in administering the security aspects of a large retail property."

"Key control and management is an essential element in administering the security aspects of a large retail property."

Alan Jones

said Alan Jones, Director, BlueGlue P/L. "The integrated solution we devised for Westfield puts together Morse Watchmans' state-of-the-art key control with biometric technology and real-time, centralized remote monitoring for an optimized system to ensure the security of back-of-house and operational areas."

Streamlined Access through Biometrics

Enrollment in the system is through fingerprint identification; a one-time registration allows access at any site in the program with all access activity recorded for auditing purposes. The system additionally issues a durable identification wristband with name, date and time stamp.

The Watchman's Flute John Heath-Stubbs,1978     Selected Poems John Heath-Stubbs,2019-04-01 C H Sisson called John Heath Stubbs a Johnsonian presence with a Miltonic disability a reference to the poet s blindness This selection of an abundant poet restores him to a new readership with the work on which his popularity was based His ground breaking early poetry is given its due especially the major long poem Wounded Thammuz printed here in its entirety Heath Stubbs was at the centre of the New Romantic school The Second World War left him as almost the sole representative of one stream of English poetry He remains crucial to the 1940s and 50s and was a popular presence into the 1980s composing his later poems in his head and reciting from memory Too long he has been sidelined by shifts of critical fashion Selected Poems includes a critical preface by John Clegg who essentialises and celebrates the work Three of Heath Stubbs translations of Leopardi revered by subsequent translators and long out of print are included     John Heath-Stubbs John E. Goode,1984-10     Sir Bevis of Hampton Jennifer Fellows,2017 Sir Bevis of Hampton is arguably one of the most important non Arthurian romances in Middle English but it is only comparatively recently that it has received much scholarly or critical attention Originating in England the story of Bevis was immensely popular and influential during the late medieval and early modern periods both in the British Isles and in continental Europe The Middle English Bevis was translated around 1300 from an Anglo Norman original which spawned versions both written and oral in a dozen or so languages these range in date from the beginning of the fourteenth century to within living memory when a version of the story was still being performed by Sicilian puppeteers The printing history of Bevis as well as references to the romance in the works of such writers as Shakespeare Spenser Bunyan Drayton and Steele indicates that it was still being widely read in English until well into the early modern period This parallel text edition is designed to complement rather than to supplant earlier editions of Bevis such as that produced by Eugen Kolbing and published for the Early English Text Society in 1885 1894 A substantial introduction and extensive annotation place the Middle English romance in its literary and cultural contexts from the fourteenth century down to the present day The principal aims of the edition are to indicate the variety and complexity of the textual tradition of Bevis and to provide material for further more nuanced approaches to a significant cultural phenomenon Braille Book Review ,1988
