What Am I Feeling:

Addresses Dwight Lyman Moody, 1880      What Am I Feeling? ARIELLA. WOLFE, 2022-11-11 Children generally grasp generic emotions like happy sad and mad very early on but there is still so much to teach them about the complexities of feelings By helping your child put a name to what they are experiencing they will be more equipped to handle themselves with care and treat themselves and others with compassion Ariella Wolfe is a mother and educator with experience in grades K 12 who works with children of all backgrounds From ELL students to students with disabilities or even gifted learners she found a similar reoccurring theme when it came to outbursts of behavior the children didn't fully understand their emotions and were unable to verbalize what they felt inside As adults we are able to express out emotions to receive validation and often expect children to be able to do the same but many need some coaching along the way What Am I Feeling has been successfully used by Ariella for years but now it is available to all of you This book helps children to recognize thoughts and physical sensations and correlate them to an emotion in an engaging and FUN way At the end of the story there is an assortment of activity pages for children to practice their social emotional skills

What Would Your Father Say? Janice McDermott, 2011-02-24 Janices memoir leads her readers on a sometimes sad often jubilant jaunt through her young years in a long gone rural Iowa Poverty the death of her young father and stints in an orphanage a foster home and a convent all propel her to an adulthood where she finds peace with herself and with God Janices stories of smoking nuns illicit fudge wash day sibling rivalry learning to drive secret viewing of White Christmas working at Rays Drive Inn and searching for diamonds in the privy engage the adventuresome and the quirky sides of all of us And they reveal why her mother so often declared her father would be turning over in his grave if he knew what they were doing Readers will find hope faith and trust in a Power greater than we are as they travel this journey with her
