The Greyhound Stud Book ,1899      Origin of the Earth and Moon Robin M. Canup, Kevin Righter, 2000-11 The age old question of how our home planet and its satellite originated has in recent times undergone a minor revolution The emergence of the giant impact theory as the most successful model for the origin of the Moon has been difficult to reconcile with some aspects of the Earth and the development of an integrated model for the origin of the Earth Moon system has been difficult for this reason However recent technical advances in experimental and isotopic work together with intensified interest in the modeling of planetary dynamics have produced a wealth of new results requiring a rethinking of models for the origin of the Earth and Moon This book is intended to serve as a resource for those scientists working closely in this field while at the same time it provides enough balance and depth to offer an introduction for students or technically minded general readers Its thirty chapters address isotopic and chemical constraints on accretion the dynamics of terrestrial planet formation the impact triggered formation of the Earth Moon system differentiation of the Earth and Moon the origin of terrestrial volatiles and conditions on the young Earth and Moon Covering such subjects as the history and origin of the Moon s orbit water on the Earth and the implications of Earth Moon interactions for terrestrial climate and life the book constitutes a state of the art overview of the most recent investigations in the field Although many advances have been made in our ability to evaluate competing models of the formation of the Earth Moon system there are still many gaps in our understanding This book makes great strides toward closing those gaps by highlighting the extensive progress that has been made and pointing toward future research

Kabat,2004 This book presents a state of the art scientific overview of the influence of terrestrial vegetation and soils within the Earth system It deals especially with interactions between the terrestrial biosphere and the atmosphere via the hydrological cycle and their interlinkage with anthropogenic activities Measurements gathered in integrated field experiments in the Sahel the Amazon North America and South east Asia confirm the importance of these interactions but a substantial data consolidation effort still needs to be undertaken Observations are complemented by modelling studies including regional models that simulate flows and transport in river catchments coupled land cover and regional climate systems and Earth system and global circulation models Water nutrient and sediment fluxes in river basins are also discussed and are shown to be highly impacted and regulated by humans through land use pollution and river engineering Finally the book discusses environmental vulnerability and methodologies for assessing the risks associated with regional and global climatic and environmental variability and change The editors emphasise that the results reported in this book are based on the research work of many individual
