

What Was the First Writing System?

Earliest Known Writing System

Ancient Mesopotamia was the first ancient civilization that developed the very first writing system. Also, the Ancient Egyptians, Chinese, and Mesoamericans also developed full writing systems as well.

- People of Sumer invented the first writing system back in 3,500 to 3,000 BC.
- Egyptians developed their writing system in 3,250 BC, which was similar to the ones that Sumerians developed.
- Chinese developed a fully operational writing system in 1,300 BC in the late Shang-dynasty.

Mesopotamian Writing System

Cuneiform was the first writing system developed in the Sumer region of Mesopotamia.

- In the next 600 years, the process of cuneiform writing stabilized, and many changes were made to this writing system.
- Mesopotamians used to have professional writers, called scribes or tablet writers.
- The decipherment of cuneiform script started in the 18th century.

Egyptian Writing System

After 3200 BC, Egyptians started engraving hieroglyphs on small ivory tablets. These tablets were used in graves at Abydos in the tomb of the ruler of Upper Egypt, the predynastic King Scorpion.

It's important to note that the very first form of ink writing is also found in Egypt. They used reed pens to write on papyrus, according to the History of Pencils.

Chinese Writing System

The earliest forms of Chinese writing were found about 310 miles away from modern-day Beijing, on a Yellow River's tributary. This area is now known as Anyang and it's the place where the late Shang dynasty kings founded their capital.

In 1899, Wang Yirong, a scholar and politician, examined some characters engraved on divination ritual Bone just to realize their significance. They show a fully developed and complex writing system, which the Chinese not only used for communication but also to record their daily life events.

Mesoamerican Writing System

Recent discoveries show that pre-colonial Mesoamericans used a writing system around 900 BC.

- The Open System was tied to the grammatical and sound structures of a particular language. Examples of the closed system can be found in the Maya civilization.
- Open system, on the other hand, wasn't tied to the grammatical and sound structures of any specific language as it was used as a means of recording text.

Writing the Early Crusades Marcus Graham Bull, Damien Kempf, 2014 A pioneering approach to contemporary historical writing on the First Crusade looking at the texts as cultural artefacts rather than simply for the evidence they contain The First Crusade 1095 1101 was the stimulus for a substantial boom in Western historical writing in the first decades of the twelfth century beginning with the so called eyewitness accounts of the crusade and extending to numerous second hand treatments in prose and verse From the time when many of these accounts were first assembled in printed form by Jacques Bongars in the early seventeenth century and even more so since their collective appearance in the great nineteenth century compendium of crusade texts the Recueil des historiens des croisades narrative histories have come to be regarded as the single most important resource for the academic study of the early crusade movement But our understanding of these texts is still far from satisfactory This ground breaking volume draws together the work of an international team of scholars It tackles the disjuncture between the study of the crusades and the study of medieval history writing setting the agenda for future research into historical narratives about or inspired by crusading The basic premise that informs all the papers is that narrative accounts of crusades and analogous texts should not be primarily understood as repositories of data that contribute to a reconstruction of events but as cultural artefacts that can be interrogated from a wide range of theoretical methodological and thematic perspectives
