What Do We Mean by That? Laura Rychly, 2024-09-09 What Do We Mean by That Interrogating Familiar Expressions in Education is a collection of essays that opens a space for all educational workers teachers teacher educators administrators politicians and others to unpack commonly used educational phrases and ideas The idea is to carefully examine what we say to one another when we talk about schools curriculum students and other educational problems or issues when we say things like We have to meet students where they are and All children can learn or What does the data say What Do We Mean by That challenges and clarifies such phrases and the how and why that they shape educational policies and practices The influential curricular theorist Dwayne Huebner charged us to always be aware of our man made tools such as language and said that since all educators attempt to shape the world theorists should call attention to the tools used for the shaping in order that the world being shaped can be more beautiful and just Language is a tool in educational practice in myriad ways between administrators and teachers teachers and students teachers and parents and students and students as examples A scripted curriculum is a tool intended to provide fixed language to teachers It is normal for phrases to make their way into our everyday practices and get lodged there But we need opportunities to interrupt ourselves and study our language tools to ensure they help create beauty and justice This collection of thoughtful essays seeks to be this interruption It is an invaluable tool for improving the educational experience of students and schools Perfect for courses such as Foundations of Education Curriculum Studies Diversity in Education Educational Rhetoric and Policy

What Does It All Mean? Thomas Nagel,1987-10-15 In this cogent and accessible introduction to philosophy the distinguished author of Mortal Questions and The View From Nowhere sets forth the central problems of philosophical inquiry for the beginning student Arguing that the best way to learn about philosophy is to think about its questions directly Thomas Nagel considers possible solutions to nine problems knowledge of the world beyond our minds knowledge of other minds the mind body problem free will the basis of morality right and wrong the nature of death the meaning of life and the meaning of words Although he states his own opinions clearly Nagel leaves these fundamental questions open allowing students to entertain other solutions and encouraging them to think for themselves

What Does Understanding Mathematics Mean for Teachers? Yuichi Handa,2013-05-13 This book opens up alternative ways of thinking and talking about ways in which a person can know a subject in this case mathematics leading to a reconsideration of what it may mean to be a teacher of that subject In a number of European languages a distinction is made in ways of knowing that in the English language is collapsed into the singular word know In French for example to know in the savoir sense is to know things facts names how and why things work and so on whereas to know in the connaître sense is to know a person a place or even a thing namely an other in such a way that one is familiar with or in relationship with this other Primarily through phenomenological reflection with a touch of empirical input this book fleshes out an image for what a person's connaître knowing of mathematics might mean turning to mathematics teachers and teacher educators to help clarify this image
