Communicative Capacity Koen P.R. Bartels,2016-06-01 Participatory democracy has become an unshakable norm and its practice is widespread Nowadays public professionals and citizens regularly encounter each other in participatory practice to address shared problems But while the frequency pace and diversity of their public encounters has increased communicating in participatory practice remains a challenging fragile and demanding undertaking that often runs astray This unique book explores how citizens and public professionals communicate why this is so difficult and what could lead to more productive conversations Using timely original empirical research to make a thorough comparative analysis of cases in the United Kingdom the Netherlands and Italy it shows policy makers practitioners students and academics the value of communicative capacity

Observing Policy-Making in Indonesia Erhard Friedberg,Mary E. Hilderbrand,2016-10-03 This book analyzes policy making and implementation in Indonesia Conducted at the School of Government and Public Policy Indonesia the research presented here provides original insights into the country s public policy processes by exploring the conditions on the ground that shape implementation The studies brought together in this volume are based on fieldwork involving interviews with various stakeholders first hand observations and the collection of original documents and data They address policy issues ranging from health insurance district recruitment community empowerment and solid waste management to tourism and the status of refugees The result is a wealth of case study data on policy implementation experiences in Indonesia that will benefit students academics and practitioners alike

Savannas and Dry Forests Andrea Berardi,2017-05-15 Parched landscapes biodiversity loss encroaching deserts and deforestation are some of the environmental crises taking place in tropical savannas and dry forests throughout the world To date much research into these regions has treated humans as outside or as an impact only However over and over again examples show that in fact humans are not external factors but integral components of these systems Humans are key determinants of savannas and dry forests affecting patterns and processes as well as impacts on natural resources Unless we understand the human environment relationship in these regions we will never truly identify the causes or be able to provide solutions This book therefore focuses on the roles of the past present and future human perceptions and actions on savannas and dry forests It examines how the views of local farmers NGO workers government officials and international scientists differ on the links between the social and ecological components of savannas It deals with these multiple perspectives by using systems diagramming and conceptual modelling to provide a clearer and more explicit understanding and to promote better communication between the various actors concerned

Understanding Teamwork in Health Care Gordon Mosser, James W. Begun, 2014

Publisher's Note: Products purchased from Third Party sellers are not guaranteed by the publisher for quality, authenticity, or access to any online entitlements included with the product. The experts agree: Understanding Teamwork in Health Care is a true must-read. A Doody's Core Title for 2017. This is a much-needed addition to the training curriculum of anyone involved in the healthcare industry. James Townsend, DHSc, MBA, MIS, A.T. Still University, and Doody's Review Service: Our health care can be magnificently effective, but without constant coordination and cooperation, its technologies and specialization can be the front doors to confusing complexity and risky fragmentation. Better teamwork improves every aspect of the Institute for Healthcare Improvement's Triple Aim: patients' experience of health care, the health of our populations, and the cost of providing care. In this book, Dr. Mosser and Professor Begun have given us a superb guide for better teamwork. Their account is based on sound evidence and compelling concepts, but it is also eminently practical. Nearly 100 stories of teamwork, mostly exemplary, sometimes cautionary, illustrate what it means for patients, physicians, nurses, pharmacists, and others to work together in effective harmony. Donald M. Berwick, MD, MPP, President Emeritus and Senior Fellow, Institute for Healthcare Improvement: Best health outcomes are often the result of an extremely competent, completely connected team of caregivers working with an empowered patient who is the absolute central focus, and sometimes the team quarterback. Drs. Mosser and Begun grasp the critical importance of healthcare team members working as equals, despite titles or disciplines of practice. This is an engaging, enlightening, entertaining must-read for clinicians currently working in the field of health care, those considering the profession, people teaching potential caregivers, and anyone interested in the future of how we can deliver best health care at lowest cost through cohesive teams. George C. Halvorson, Chairman and CEO, Kaiser Permanente: Dr. Mosser and Dr. Begun blend clinical vignettes and science in a highly readable book to help us understand the importance and diversity of health care teams. The authors' conceptual frameworks are intellectually compelling, and their vignettes capture those concepts in action. Members of every type of health care team will find this book to be a valuable resource. Read the first three chapters; you won't be able to resist the pleasure of reading the rest of the book. Linda Cronenwett, PhD, RN, FAAN, Professor and Dean Emeritus, School of Nursing, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill: The team-based models developing in progressive health care call for a comprehensive and insightful guidebook. Understanding Teamwork in Health Care meets this need. It provides pharmacists and other health care professionals with the foundational knowledge necessary to be members of effective clinical teams. Joseph DiPiro, PharmD, Professor and Executive Dean, South Carolina College of Pharmacy: This important guide focuses on the core skills necessary to effectively implement teamwork in a complex hospital or primary care setting. The book's mission is to make often-overlooked perspectives about teamwork more widely known and used. No matter what your prior level of team involvement may be, this is the one resource that will help you adeptly participate in, lead, or manage teams. Unlike other texts that rely heavily on theory and healthcare policy, this indispensable reference offers a realistic practical look at the challenges and many opportunities Reforming the European Commission Michael W. Bauer, 2013-10-18 Many international and supranational organisations have lately been busy modernising their internal administration But nowhere has management change received a similar amount of attention than in the case of the European Commission Although the perception prevails that the Commission has been losing out in recent years this vivid interest academic as well as public in the so called Kinnock reform suggests that this organisation still remains at the heart of the Union The proposition of this book thus is simple If it remains true that the Commission is an essential part within the admittedly complex equation of EU policy making changes of the administration basis of this actor are likely to have broader implications Consequently this special issue poses three crucial questions about the recent administrative reform of the European Commission why was such a comprehensive reform possible what are its specific implications for the Commission as an organisation and what is the likely impact for the policy process In short this book puts the organisational base of EU policy making centre stage In the quest for answers the authors of the subsequent chapters take distinct perspectives use various research strategies and methods and attempt to solve diverse empirical puzzles But all attempt to add to our understanding of this organisational base and how to systematically study it This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of European Public Policy Industrial Management Review, 1965

Nontimber Forest Products in the United States Eric T. Jones, Rebecca Jean McLain, James F. Weigand, 2002 A quiet revolution is taking place in America's forests Once seen primarily as stands of timber our woodlands are now prized as a rich source of a wide range of commodities from wild mushrooms and maple sugar to hundreds of medicinal plants whose uses have only begun to be fully realized Now as timber harvesting becomes more mechanized and requires less labor the image of the lumberjack is being replaced by that of the forager This book provides the first comprehensive examination of nontimber forest products NTFPs in the United States illustrating their diverse importance describing the people who harvest them and outlining the steps that are being taken to ensure access to them As the first extensive national overview of NTFP policy and management specific to the United States it brings together research from numerous disciplines and analytical perspectives such as economics mycology history ecology law entomology forestry geography and anthropology in order to provide a cohesive picture of the current and potential role of NTFPs The contributors review the state of scientific knowledge of NTFPs by offering a survey of commercial and noncommercial products an overview of uses and users and discussions of sustainable management issues associated with ecology cultural traditions forest policy and commerce They examine some of the major social economic and biological benefits of NTFPs while also addressing the potential negative consequences of NTFP harvesting on forest ecosystems and on NTFP species populations Within this wealth of information are rich accounts of NTFP use drawn from all parts of the American landscape from the Pacific Northwest to the Caribbean From honey production to a review of nontimber forest economies still active in the United States such as the Ojibway harvest of plants recounted here the book takes in the whole breadth of recent NTFP issues including ecological concerns associated with the expansion of NTFP markets and NTFP tenure issues on federally managed lands No other volume offers such a comprehensive overview of NTFPs in North America By examining all aspects of these products it contributes to the development of more sophisticated policy and management frameworks for not only ensuring their ongoing use but also protecting the future of our forests Understanding Management Policy Victor Zinn Brink,1978 Office Executives' Series American Management Association,1927 Journal of the American Institute of Architects American Institute of Architects,1924 Practical Cooperative Marketing Andrew William McKay,Charles Homer Lane,1928 Journal of Personnel Research ,1924 Includes section Book reviews Industrial Psychology Monthly Donald Anderson Laird,1928 Publications of the National Electric Light Association.- ,1923 Proceedings of National Electric Light Association National Electric Light Association. Convention,1924 Report of the Inception Workshop of the FAO Extrabudgetary Programme on Fisheries and Aquaculture for Poverty Alleviation and Food Security ,2010 This Workshop was held to generate inputs and guidance to the contents and process of developing an assistance programme for fisheries and aquaculture The programme s overall goal is to ensure that responsible and sustainable use of fisheries and aquaculture resources make an appreciable contribution to human well being food security and poverty alleviation The workshop stressed the need to include fisheries and aquaculture especially the small scale subsectors into poverty alleviation food security and disaster risk reduction policies and programmes These should be informed by a human rights approach to development The challenges to advance the poverty alleviation and food security agendas are considerable Concerted efforts and partnerships at different levels and scales are needed and interventions should be firmly anchored in the regional national and local context It is vital to build up national and local ownership in accordance with the Paris Declaration and this should be a key requirement for the inception phase and beyond Outlook Alfred Emanuel Smith,Francis Walton,1926
