Allie Victoria Tennant and the Visual Arts in Dallas Light Townsend Cummins, 2015-09-18 Winner 2016 Liz Carpenter Award for the Research in the History of Women presented at the Texas State Historical Association Annual Meeting At Fair Park in Dallas a sculpture of a Native American figure bronze with gilded gold leaf strains a bow before sending an arrow into flight Tejas Warrior has welcomed thousands of visitors since the Texas Centennial Exposition opened in the 1930s The iconic piece is instantly recognizable yet few people know about its creator Allie Victoria Tennant one of a notable group of Texas artists who actively advanced regionalist art in the decades before World War II Light Townsend Cummins follows Tennant's public career from the 1920s to the 1960s both as an artist and as a culture bearer as she advanced cultural endeavors including the arts A true pathfinder she helped to create and nurture art institutions that still exist today most especially the Dallas Museum of Art on whose board of trustees she sat for almost thirty years Tennant also worked on behalf of other civic institutions including the public schools art academies and the State Fair of Texas where she helped create the Women's Building Allie Victoria Tennant and the Visual Arts in Dallas sheds new light on an often overlooked artist

The Oxford Handbook of Atheism Stephen Bullivant, Michael Ruse, 2013-11-21 Recent books by among others Sam Harris Richard Dawkins and Christopher Hitchens have thrust atheism firmly into the popular media and academic spotlight This so called New Atheism is arguably the most striking development in western socio religious culture of the past decade or more As such it has spurred fertile and often heated discussions both within and between a diverse range of disciplines Yet atheism and the New Atheism are by no means co extensive Interesting though it indeed is the New Atheism is a single historically and culturally specific manifestation of positive atheism the that there is are no God's which is itself but one form of a far deeper broader and more significant global phenomenon The Oxford Handbook of Atheism is a pioneering edited volume exploring atheism understood in the broad sense of an absence of belief in the existence of a God or gods in all the richness and diversity of its historical and contemporary expressions Bringing together an international team of established and emerging scholars it probes the varied manifestations and implications of unbelief from an array of disciplinary perspectives philosophy history sociology anthropology demography psychology natural sciences gender and sexuality studies literary criticism film studies musicology and in a range of global contexts Western Europe North America post communist Europe the Islamic world Japan India Both surveying and synthesizing previous work and presenting the major fruits of innovative recent research the handbook is set to be a landmark text for the study of atheism      Domesticating the Invisible Melissa S. Ragain, 2021-01-12

Domesticating the Invisible examines how postwar notions of form developed in response to newly perceived environmental threats in turn inspiring artists to model plastic composition on natural systems often invisible to the human eye Melissa S Ragain focuses on the history of art education in Cambridge Massachusetts to understand how an environmental approach to form inspired new art programs at Harvard and MIT As they embraced scientific theories of composition these institutions also cultivated young artists as environmental agents who could influence urban design and contribute to an ecologically sensitive public sphere Ragain combines institutional and intellectual histories to map how the emergency of environmental crisis altered foundational modernist assumptions about form transforming questions about aesthetic judgment into questions about an ethical relationship to the environment      Art Today Edward Lucie-Smith, 1999-09-16

A survey of one of the most controversial epochs art history the Modern Movement this text combines a critical eye with a historian's insight into wider trends It reflects the changes that have swept across the art world since 1960 challenging the old assumptions and certainties      A History of Art Education Arthur D. Efland, 1990 Arthur Efland puts current debate and concerns in a well researched historical perspective He examines the institutional settings of art education throughout Western history the social forces that have shaped it and the evolution and impact of alternate streams of influence on present practice A History of Art Education is the first book to treat the visual arts in relation to developments in general education Particular emphasis is placed on the 19th and 20th centuries and on the social context that has affected our concept of art today This book will be useful as a main text in history of art education courses as a supplemental text in courses in art education methods and history of education and as a valuable resource for students professors and researchers The book should become a standard reference tool for art educators at all levels of the field The Journal of Aesthetics and Art Criticism Efland has filled a gap in historical research on art education and made an important contribution to scholarship in the field Studies in Art Education

Art Today Ray Faulkner, Edwin Ziegfeld, 1969      Amendments to the National Foundation on the Arts and the Humanities Act of 1965 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Education and Labor. Select Subcommittee on Education, 1970      The Revenge of the Philistines Hilton Kramer, 1985 Kramer former New York Times art critic has assembled a collection of his reviews along with a smattering of essays In his hymn to New York's renovated Museum of Modern Art he notes that its formalist outlook tends to lead to a false sense of orthodoxy Yet these reviews which rigorously apply his own formalist standards of what constitutes modern art miss out on much of what is vital and meaningful in today's highly variegated art scene Kramer is appalled by political art most of which he argues lacks artistic merit he doubts whether any great art can be political In surveying the 80s rebirth of realism he reassures us that many new realists are not antimodernist or antiabstractionist One piece agonizes over whether Saul Steinberg should be considered an artist A somewhat condescending essay on Max Ernst sets him above the muddled narcissism said to mar many other surrealists

Other subjects range from Rodin to Walker Evans selections were culled from the New York Times New Criterion which Kramer edits Commentary and elsewhere Publishers Weekly via amazon com Sound and the Visual Arts Jean-Yves Bosseur,1993 Musician and musicologist Jean Yves Bosseur explores the growing relationship between the plastic arts and music in the world of contemporary art This trend is shown in its aesthetic and historical context through interviews with Iannis Xenakis Francis Miroglio Takis John Cage Milan Knizak Wolf Vostell Max Neuhaus Nam June Paik and Stan Douglas
