Violent Peace:

The Violent Peace George G. Gilman, 1974      Peace and Violence in Brazil Marcos Alan Ferreira, 2021-10-28 This edited volume examines how the multiple manifestations of social violence in Brazil impacts the building of a peaceful society. The chapters reflect on the role of state organized crime and civil society. They provide a unique analysis of how the Brazilian state deals with criminal violence but also finds challenges to comply with Sustainable Development Goal 16 to interdict police violence and to provide an efficient gun policy. The book shows the agency of civil society in a violent society in which NGOs and communities engage in key peace formation action including advocacy for human rights and promoting arts. The overall aim of this book is to advance the research agenda regarding the intersections between peace, public security and violence under the lens of peace studies. In Brazil the challenges to peace differ markedly from areas in regular conflict.

The Peace In Between Astri Suhrke, Mats Berdal, 2013-03-01 This volume examines the causes and purposes of post conflict violence. The end of a war is generally expected to be followed by an end to collective violence as the term post conflict that came into general usage in the 1990s signifies. In reality however various forms of deadly violence continue and sometimes even increase after the big guns have been silenced and a peace agreement signed. Explanations for this and other kinds of violence fall roughly into two broad categories: those that stress the legacies of the war and those that focus on the conditions of the peace. There are significant gaps in the literature most importantly arising from the common premise that there is one predominant type of post war situation. This post war state is often endowed with certain generic features that predispose it towards violence such as a weak state, criminal elements generated by the war time economy, demobilized but not demilitarized or reintegrated ex combatants, impunity and rapid liberalization. The premise of this volume differs. It argues that features which constrain or encourage violence stack up in ways to create distinct and different types of post war environments. Critical factors that shape the post war environment in this respect lie in the war to peace transition itself above all the outcome of the war in terms of military and political power and its relationship to social hierarchies of power, normative understandings of the post war order and the international context. This book will be of much interest to students of war and conflict studies, peacebuilding and IR, Security Studies in general.

Practicing Peace Aarie Glas, 2022 This chapter introduces the comparative regional study of conflictual peace in Southeast Asia and South America over five sections. First it surveys trends in interstate peace and conflict in both Southeast Asia and South America in order to illustrate the puzzle at the heart of this book: the long but conflictual peace of each region. The second section explores existing accounts of this reality highlighting the role of state power, regional organizations and norms and in culture in shaping regional relations.

Hybrid Forms of Peace Oliver P. Richmond, Audra Mitchell, 2011-11-15 This book examines the role of everyday action in accepting, resisting and reshaping interventions and the unique forms of peace that emerge from the interactions between local and international actors. Building on critiques of liberal peace building it redefines critical peace and conflict studies based on new research from 16 countries

Diminishing Conflicts in Asia and the Pacific Edward Aspinall, Robin Jeffrey, Anthony J. Regan, 2013 Since the publication of the 2005 Human Security Report scholars and policy makers have debated the causes interpretation and implications of what the report described as a global decline in armed conflict since the end of the Cold War Focusing on the Asia Pacific region this book analyses the causes and patterns of this decline In few regions has the apparent decline in conflict been as dramatic as in the Asia Pacific with annual recorded battle deaths falling in the range of 50 to 75 percent between 1994 and 2004 Drawing on a wide range of case studies this book looks at internal conflicts based on the mobilization of ethnic and nationalist grievances which have been the most costly in human lives over the last decade The book identifies structures norms practices and techniques that have either fuelled or moderated conflicts As such it is an essential read for students and scholars of international relations peace and conflict studies and Asian studies

Track III Actions Helena Desivilya Syna, Geoffrey Corry, 2023-01-30 Since the end of the Cold War in the early 90s a multi track approach to peacemaking has been developed by academics and practitioners to bring political and civil society leaders together from across the divide of contested societies to find ways out of the conflict Much of the focus up to now has been given to the strategic contribution of Track II conflict analysis and problem solving workshops This book puts the spotlight on the role that grassroots leaders and citizens can play at Track III level in the community in building and strengthening a bottom up approach to conflict transformation following protracted conflicts In Part 1 the focus is on the post conflict situation of Northern Ireland twenty years after the Belfast Good Friday Agreement Part 2 portrays scholarly and practitioners perspectives and actions in communities and organizations designed to build partnerships in order to counteract the legacies of active protracted conflict Plots the role of Track III approaches within a multi track peacemaking pyramid in the protracted conflict and post conflict phases of conflict transformation Provides case studies on how to engage community leaders in thinking together how to work with deep seated legacies of protracted conflicts Explores the contribution of bottom up models to build intergroup partnerships within and between local communities Focuses on the interface between research and practice

A Violent Peace Carolyn N. Biltoft, 2021-05-03 The newly born League of Nations confronted the post WWI world from growing stateless populations to the resurgence of right wing movements by aiming to create a transnational cosmopolitan dialogue on justice As part of these efforts a veritable army of League personnel set out to shape global public opinion in favor of the postwar liberal international order Combining the tools of global intellectual history and cultural history A Violent Peace reopens the archives of the League to reveal surprising links between the political use of modern information systems and the rise of mass violence in the interwar world Historian Carolyn N Biltoft shows how conflicts over truth and power that played out at the League of Nations offer broad insights into the nature of totalitarian regimes and their use of media flows to demonize a whole range of others An exploration of instability in information systems the allure of fascism and the contradictions at the heart of a global modernity
