Teachers and Assistants Working Together Karen Vincett,Hilary Cremin,Gary Thomas,2005 This book is for teachers and teaching assistants seeking to improve the ways in which they work together to meet the needs of children in their classes It outlines the thinking behind the employment of teaching assistants in the classroom and spells out some of the teamworking opportunities and problems that can arise Drawing on original research it explores ways in which teachers and teaching assistants can work together to support children's learning and examines different models of working together. This is a key text for classroom teachers, teaching assistants, trainee teachers, and postgraduate education students and those studying for foundation degrees for teaching assistants. It is also of use to headteachers, educational psychologists, and other support personnel. BOOK JACKET School Reform and the School Library Media Specialist Sandra

Hughes-Hassell, Violet H. Harada, 2007-08-30 This third entry in the Principles and Practice series focuses on the role of the library media specialist as a change agent in the school. The purpose of this book is twofold: to provide insight into the role of the school librarian as change agent and to demonstrate strategies for being an effective change agent using a subset of current reform initiatives. The authors are educators, library media specialists, and researchers who share a common belief in the ability of classroom teachers, administrators, library media specialists, parents, and community members to work together to create schools that make a difference in the lives of students and help produce citizens who have a capacity to cope with change in the future. Grades K-12 Collaboration, Consultation, and Teamwork for Students with Special Needs

Peggy Dettmer, 2009 This text provides a comprehensive practical foundation and guide for preparing school personnel and families to work together in the education of students with special needs. The book addresses the roles and responsibilities of all educators at school while working with families and in their communities to allow them to provide services that will help students with special needs achieve and develop their potential. The book's organization works well with the conventional formats of a special education course, in collaborative school consultation at the pre-service or graduate level with classes for general teacher education, and with school districts' professional development plans.
