Teaching And Researching Motivation:

Teaching and Researching: Motivation Zoltán Dörnyei, Ema Ushioda, 2013-11-26 Cultivating motivation is crucial to a language learner's success and therefore crucial for the language teacher and researcher to understand. This fully revised edition of a groundbreaking work reflects the dramatic changes the field of motivation research has undergone in recent years including the impact of language globalisation and various dynamic and relational research methodologies and offers ways in which this research can be put to practical use in the classroom and in research. Key new features and material: A brand new chapter on current socio-dynamic and complex systems perspectives. New approaches to motivating students based on the L2 Motivational Self System. Illustrative summaries of qualitative and mixed methods studies. Samples of new self-related motivation measures. Providing a clear and comprehensive theory-driven account of motivation. Teaching and Researching Motivation examines how theoretical insights can be used in everyday teaching practice and offers practical tips. The final section provides a range of useful resources including relevant websites, key reference works and tried and tested example questionnaires. Written in an accessible style and illustrated with concrete examples, it is an invaluable resource for teachers and researchers alike.

Teaching and Researching Motivation Zoltán Dörnyei, 2001 Success in learning a language largely depends on motivation. But what is motivation? How can it be increased? How can it be assessed? This text summarises the various facets of motivation and examines how theory can help teachers in practice. Teaching and Researching: Autonomy in Language Learning Phil Benson, 2013-11-04

Autonomy has become a keyword of language policy in education systems around the world as the importance of independent learning and new technologies has grown. Now in a fully revised and updated second edition Teaching and Researching Autonomy provides an accessible and comprehensive critical account of the theory and practice of autonomy. Examining the history of the concept, it addresses important questions of how we can identify autonomy in language learning behaviours and how we can evaluate the wide variety of educational practices that have been designed to foster autonomy in learning. Topics new to this edition include: Autonomy and new technologies. Teacher autonomy. The sociocultural implications of autonomy. With over three hundred new references and five new case studies of research on autonomy providing practical advice on research methods and topics in the field Teaching and Researching Autonomy will be an essential introduction for teachers and students to a subject at the cutting edge of language teaching and research.

The Scholarship of Teaching and Learning in Higher Education: An Evidence-Based Perspective Raymond P. Perry, John C. Smart, 2007-06-04 Pivotal to the transformation of higher education in the 21st Century is the nature of pedagogy and its role in advancing the aims of various stakeholders. This book brings together pre-eminent scholars from Australia, Canada, Europe, the Middle East and the USA to critically assess teaching and learning issues that cut across most disciplines. In addressing long-standing and newly emerging issues, the researchers examine the scientific evidence on what constitutes effective teaching in college classrooms on the psychometric integrity of measures of teaching effectiveness and on the use of such measures for tenure promotion and salary decisions Systematically explored throughout the book is the avowed linkage between classroom teaching and motivation learning and performance outcomes in students In so doing the book deals with the nexus between knowledge production by researchers and knowledge utility for end users made up of classroom instructors department heads deans directors and policymakers The book will appeal to researchers interested in teaching and learning faculty members developing evidence based pedagogical practices academic administrators and policymakers responsible for instituting teaching and learning protocols and faculty development officers promoting the effective teaching practices
