ABSTRACT

This article covers several changes and details that have occurred in attitude about teaching writing as a second language. In traditional classes, the main goal was learning grammatical rules and writing accurately. Writing different types of assignments motivate learners to be responsible for their own learning by increasing the students' writing abilities. The aim of writing assignments should be focusing on the topic by letting students do self-assessment and peer assessment that encourages them in the writing process. To write for a reader being one of the important purposes of teaching writing nowadays in the second-language can improve the students' abilities to plan, revise and edit their texts, to search for appropriate words and phrases. Teachers must achieve a good learning atmosphere that will have a great impact on students' learning.

Introduction. Throughout the last years, our views of writing in a second language have drastically changed. Being one of the productive skills, much attention should be paid to teaching writing. In traditional classes, the purpose of the writing activity was to catch grammar, spelling, and punctuation errors when students write in a second language. For doing such kind of exercises, students were given a short text and instructed to change all singular nouns to plural nouns or to change verbs from present tense to past tense. The students being carefully controlled saw only correct language and practiced the learned grammar structures. Similarly, in more advanced classes, students were assigned compositions or other types of texts to write. Most often, teachers marked all the grammatical and mechanical errors in the writing. Then the papers were returned to the students asking correct all the errors and recopy the text. In these types of writing exercises, the main focus was on the language structure. To avoid errors, students wrote very cautiously and conservatively in the second language. They tried to write something easier or simpler if their thoughts did not fit with what they knew how to say. In the result, student's writing was crippled, filled with clichés.

Results. Attitudes about the role of writing, being one of the productive skills, in teaching a foreign language has changed greatly. In the language curriculum, writing has become significant similarly to other three language skills. "Writing is the natural outlet for the students' reflections on their speaking, listening, and reading experiences in their second language." [3,171]. While writing their thoughts, students develop confidence and a sense of power over the studied language when the students' levels are A₂ or B₁. In order to master the learned grammatical and lexical material and to consolidate the students' knowledge, it is significant to use the following writing assignments:

Genre and Second Language Writing Ken Hyland, 2004-09-14 An expert in the field addresses a hard to grasp concept for new writing teachers.

Writing as a Second Language Barbara Danish, 1981 Divided into four sections, this workbook offers assistance to teachers in preparing writing lessons and then in presenting these lessons in their own classrooms. Part 1 The Writing Lessons consists of 22 prewriting preparation and instruction lessons followed by 10 minute writing exercises covering various aspects of freewriting, brainstorming, focusing, the subject-verb cliché, comparison, extending images, abstract writing, descriptive writing, and fantasy. Part 2 Into the Classroom discusses the teacher's role in the classroom. Part 3 The Teaching Lessons presents 13 lessons and numerous variations that adapt skills and processes from the workbook sections. Finally, Part 4 provides the reader with a personal narrative about a teacher's experiences teaching writing.

RAE Teaching Second-language Writing Cherry Campbell, 1998 Teaching Second Language Writing is one volume of the authoritative 13 title TeacherSource series. The author examines the issue from three distinct perspectives: Teachers' Voices, which are authentic accounts of teacher's experiences; Frameworks, which are comprehensive discussions of theoretical issues; and Investigations, which are inquiry-based activities.

L2 Writing in Secondary Classrooms Luciana C. De Oliveira, Tony Silva, 2013 Second language writers and the teaching of writing at the secondary level have received little attention compared with other skills such as reading. Addressing this gap, this volume uniquely looks at both adolescent L2 writing and the preparation of secondary teachers to work with this population of students. Part I on adolescent L2 writers includes case studies looking at their literacy identities, their trajectories in mainstream content area classes, and their transition from high school to college. Part II looks at academic issues. The focus in Part III is L2 writing teacher education. Taking a theoretically eclectic approach that can support a variety of pedagogies, this book contributes significantly to understanding adolescent second language writers and to educating teachers to address these students' specific needs.

Futuristic and Linguistic Perspectives on Teaching Writing to Second Language Students Hancı-Azizoglu, Eda Başak, Kavaklı, Nurdan, 2020-12-11 The aptitude to write well is increasingly becoming a vital element that students need to succeed in college and their future careers. Students must be equipped with competent writing skills as colleges and jobs base the acceptance of students and workers on the quality of their writing. This situation captures the complexity of the fact that writing represents higher intellectual skills and leads to a higher rate of selection. Therefore, it is imperative that the best strategies for teaching writing speakers of other languages is imparted to provide insights to teachers who can better prepare their students for future accomplishments.

Second Language Writing Instruction in Global Contexts Lisy Seloni, Sarah Henderson Lee, 2019-10-11. This book revisits second language L2 writing teacher education by exploring the complex layers of L2 writing instruction in non-English dominant contexts, i.e. English as a foreign language contexts. It pushes the boundaries of teacher education by specifically examining the development of teacher literacy in writing in under-represented L2 writing contexts and re-envisioning L2 writing teacher education that is contextually and culturally situated, moving away from the uncritical embrace of Western-based writing pedagogies. It explores and expands on writing teacher education: how language teachers come to understand their own writing practices and instruction, and what their related experiences are in non-English dominant contexts across the globe. Chapter 4 is free to download as an open access publication under a CC BY-NC-ND licence. You can access it here: <https://zenodo.org/record/7096127/files/YmCsHbMLcs>.

Teaching Writing to English Language Learners in the Elementary Classroom Subrata Bhowmik, Marcia Kim, 2025-10-29. This book focuses on research-informed approaches and techniques for teaching writing to elementary English Language Learners (ELLs). The book highlights strategies for enriching writing literacy education for elementary ELLs. With contributions from prominent scholars in the field of elementary ELL writing from around the world, the chapters in this book focus on a wide range of topics, including curriculum design, metalanguage, and translanguaging, integrating playfulness into a genre-based approach to writing instruction, metacognitive instruction, teaching the genre of school identity texts, multimodal writing using mentor texts, teaching science writing and interrogating sociolinguistic ideologies in assessment practices. Together, they highlight both the challenges and possibilities of writing instruction for elementary ELLs in diverse educational contexts. This is a foundational text for students in TESOL programs focusing on writing instruction for ELLs, as well as for pre- and in-service teachers who want to upgrade their teaching.
