Printing Ausiàs March Albert Lloret,2013 Focused on two sixteenth century editions of a medieval Valencian author Ausis March 1400 59 this book examines how the material transformations of early modern poetic texts at different stages in their publication process from the making of the printer copy to the typesetting and editing of the book in the printing shop entailed thorough changes in the meaning of March s corpus Printers Juan Navarro in Valencia and especially Carles Amors in Barcelona were responsible for widely disseminating Ausis March s verses in Renaissance Spain while at the same time assimilating March s works to other distinct poetics of even higher authority and influence Notwithstanding the discrepancies between both editorial projects one indebted with cancionero poetry the other with classical models the role of Petrarch s vernacular poetry in the overall shaping of both editions was paramount and reveals the existence of remarkably similar interpretive communities in the intellectual circles of the Duke of Calabria and the Duke of Somma sponsors of the volumes studied here

Text ,2002 Current Research in French Studies at Universities and Polytechnics in the United Kingdom and Ireland ,1996 Reading and Literacy Ian Frederick Moulton,2004 It is not surprising that the development of the internet and related electronic technologies has coincided with an academic interest in the history of reading Using and transmitting texts in new ways scholars have become increasingly aware of the precise ways in which manuscripts and printed books transmitted texts to early modern readers This volume collects nine essays on reading and literacy in Europe from the fourteenth to the seventeenth centuries Topics include the function of marginalia in vernacular medieval manuscripts the trope of reading in the fourteenth century the definition of literacy in early modern England marginalia and reading practices in early modern Italy revision of medieval texts in the Renaissance the prevalence of translated French poetry in sixteenth century England the use of poems as props in the plays of Shakespeare the private reading of the playscripts of masques and early modern women s reading practices These essays demonstrate the energy and excitement of the rapidly developing field of the history of reading They will appeal to those interested in European cultural history the transition from manuscript to print culture the history of literacy and the history of the book

Simiolus, 2004 An Ong Reader Walter J. Ong, 2002 This collection puts together the writings of Walter Ong a scholar who has offered his own observations about voice orality speech literacy communication and culture Envoi, 2000 Identity, Nation, Discourse Claire Taylor, 2009 This volume explores women TM s literary and cultural production in Latin America and suggests how such works engage with discourses of identity nationhood and gender Including contributions by several prominent Latin American scholars themselves it seeks to provide a vital insight into the analysis and reception of the works in a local context and foster debate between Latin American and metropolitan academics The book is divided into two sections Women and Nationhood and Models and Genres The first section comprises six chapters which examines women TM s responses to and attempts to carve out space within national discourses in a Latin American context Spanning the nineteenth century to the present day the chapters offer an insight into the ways in which Latin American women have constructed themselves as modern subjects of the nation and made use of the ambiguous spaces created by modernization and national discourses The section starts firstly with a focus on the Southern Cone covering Chile and Argentina and then moves geographically northward to Colombia and Bolivia The second section Models and Genres consists of six chapters that examine how women writers engage with and critically re work existing literary discourses and paradigms Considering phenomena such as detective fiction fairy tales and classical mythological figures the chapters illustrate how these genres and models frequently coded as masculine are given new inflections both as a result of their deployment by women and as a result of their re working in a Latin American context Encomia Bulletin Bibliographique de la Société Internationale de Littérature Courtoise, 2002 Includes reports on the business of the Society and its Congresses it membership directory book reviews and an annual bibliography of courtly literature 1985 The Making of Poetry Jane H. M. Taylor, 2007 In this ground breaking book Jane H M Taylor explores some late medieval lyric anthologies Taking a cue from the French sociologist Pierre Bourdieu she sets poetic creation in the context of an understanding of the structures of court society and sketches the range of social intellectual and aesthetic positions available to the poet and the patron Her primary focus is on a series of manuscripts which she argues reveal much about the socioliterary dynamics of particular poems and about the way in which they are vessels for the participation by individuals in a common culture of literary exchange Charles d Orleans s personal manuscript BNF francais 25458 in which she argues the poets leave implicit or explicit traces of their social interactions his duchess Marie s album Carpentras 375 which is interestingly different from the Duke s BNF fr 9223 and n a f 15771 coterie manuscripts which allow us to see how social milieu determines shared literary forms and conventions Marguerite d Autriche s Album poetique Brussels BR 10572 an anthology which is a cultural commodity allowing a princely court to recognise stylistic expertise and control of form She finishes by examining the first great French poetic anthology Antoine Verard's Jardin de Plaisance 1501 which seeks to recreate knowingly and imaginatively via rubrics illustrations and choice of texts the elite sociability for which the other anthologies are evidence
