New Labour Mark Bevir, 2012-12-06 New Labour is the most innovative and powerful political movement in Britain today. However, New Labour A Critique argues that its apparent pragmatism disguises an ideological commitment to particular forms of social science, deploying new institutionalism and communitarianism to respond to the New Right. Bevir traces the impact of these forms of social science on the ideas and policies of New Labour, paying particular attention to the welfare state and the economy. New Labour, the new institutionalism and communitarianism typically objectify aspects of the social world to sustain claims to expert knowledge. Bevir defends and enacts an alternative interpretive approach to social science. This interpretive approach inspires a critique of New Labour as a contingent reworking of a particular socialist tradition rather than the necessary or pragmatic response that it portrays itself as.

Academies, Museums, and Canons of Art Gillian Perry, Colin Cunningham, 1999-01-01 This is the first of six books in the series Art and its Histories which form the main texts of an Open University second level course of the same name. Preface Studies on the History of Papermaking in Britain Alfred H. Shorter, 2024-08-07 The late A H Shorter is widely acknowledged for his pioneering work on the history of the British paper making industry and his books continue to provide the basis for further research. The present volume brings together all his many articles hitherto scattered across a variety of specialist publications and often virtually inaccessible. In these studies Dr Shorter tackled the subject with a broader scope than was possible in his books; in particular they cover the period after 1800, tracing the changing geographical pattern of the industry. They also contain a wealth of detailed information on papermaking across Britain, notably in the counties of southwest England that is impossible to find elsewhere and is now made accessible through the comprehensive indexes to the volume. Le regret A H Shorter est largement reconnu pour ses travaux originaux sur l'histoire de l'industrie papetière britannique et ses ouvrages continuent d'être la base de toutes recherches supplémentaires. Le présent volume rassemble la totalité de ses nombreux articles jusqu'à présent dispersés sur tout un éventail de publications spécialisées et bien trop souvent inaccessibles. Au travers de ces études l'auteur s'attaque au sujet sur un rayon plus large que cela n'avait été possible dans ses livres, couvrant en particulier la période après 1800 et traçant la structure géographique de l'industrie. Le recueil contient aussi abondance d'informations détaillées sur la fabrication du papier partout en Grande Bretagne, notamment dans les comtés du sud-ouest de l'Angleterre et qu'il est impossible de trouver ailleurs.

Transformative Beauty Amy Woodson-Boulton, 2012-03-21 Why did British industrial cities build art museums? By exploring the histories of the municipal art museums in Birmingham, Liverpool and Manchester, Transformative Beauty examines the underlying logic of the Victorian art museum movement. These museums attempted to create a space free from the moral and physical ugliness of industrial capitalism. Deeply engaged with the social criticism of John Ruskin, reformers created a new prominent urban institution, a domesticated public space that not only aimed to provide refuge from the corrosive effects of industrial society but also provided a remarkably unified secular alternative to traditional
