The Architecture Of Peter Celsing:

The Architecture of Peter Celsing Wilfried Wang, Peter Celsing, 1996 Architecture by Peter Celsing Photographed by John Håkansson John Håkansson, 2026-04-24 A time capsule of Swedish architect Peter Celsing's work in the mid 1990s Peter Celsing 1920-74 belongs to the small group of Swedish modernist architects including luminaries such as Gunnar Asplund 1885-1940 and Sigurd Lewerentz 1885-1975 who have rightly attracted attention beyond the country's borders How Celsing approached and carried out his commissions testifies to a great understanding of architecture as an applied art where function and economy are important parameters At the same time during a major shift in the construction industry from more small scale and artisanal to large scale and prefabricated Celsing managed the feat of running his projects with artistic integrity John Håkansson's black and white photographs taken in the mid 1990s capture the essence of Celsing's buildings In many cases the images are now a valuable document of that era since some of the buildings have changed and not always in a favorable way In this beautiful volume supplemented by insightful texts contributed by architect Staffan Henriksson and artist Maria Lantz Håkansson's skillful photography forms a loving and sensitive portrait of Celsing's architecture Peter Celsing Peter Celsing, 1992 Peter Celsing Marja-Riitta Norri, Maija Kärkkäinen, Suomen Rakennustaiteen Museo, 1992 Peter Celsing Marja-Riitta Norri, 1992 Modern Architecture Alan Colquhoun, 2002 In this study of the international modern movement in architecture Alan Colquhoun explores the complex motivations behind its revolutionary new style and assesses its triumphs and failures O'Neil Ford Monograph 2 Wilfried Wang, 2009 Klippan is a village located in the rural south of Sweden for which in 1962 at the age of 77 Swedish architect Sigurd Lewerentz was invited to design a church It was to become his most important commission St Petri Klippan is both a modern as well as an archaic structure The brickwork with its irregular mortar joints its dark colour and the light absorbing interior is modern in its vertical surfaces and archaic in its vaulting To this day and for many architects searching for a reflective constructional basis for contemporary architecture St Petri Klippan is an ideal for another contemporary architecture one that is matter of fact and poetic at the same time clear and mysterious immediately present as well as recessive credible as architecture as much as it is background to the primary experience This second O'Neil Ford Monograph reproduces extensive hitherto unpublished archival material as well as the results of a measured survey of the main church with a selection of details by students of the School of Architecture at The University of Texas at Austin The monograph opens with three essays the discursive context its significance and its constructional history It concludes with a comprehensive selection of photographs Lewerentz Fragments Jonathan Foote, Hansjörg Göritz, Matthew Hall, Nathan Matteson, 2021-09-03 The publication Lewerentz Fragments introduces new scholarship on the architect's motivations and compiles new essays from all the major scholars on his work for the first time in one volume presenting both historical and critical perspectives Through new essays recently discovered archival material photography and drawings the publication Lewerentz Fragments explores the architect

s body of work spanning three quarters of the twentieth century Comprising writings from all the major scholars on Lewerentz work along with several new voices this publication offers new insight into the context surrounding this architect s work Rather than focusing on a single thesis the book offers a diversity of insight from multiple cultural and professional perspectives In addition previously unpublished translations of interviews and dialogs among the architect and his contemporaries offer a voice to the silent architect altering the traditional interpretations of the work and digging past the surface of what might be considered his philosophy of building Rather than serving as an introduction to the architect s work this volume provides detailed fragments as a deep and diverse dive into one of the most mysterious of Scandinavia s modern masters Contributors Johan Celsing Patrick Doan Nicola Flora Jonathan Foote Matthew Hall Per Iwansson Thomas Bo Jensen Nathan Matteson Enrico Miglietta Paolo Giardiello Hansj rg G ritz Magnus Gustafsson Mariana Manner Anne Marie Nelson Gennaro Postiglione Wilfried Wang Ola Wedebrunn With Contributions of Archival reproductions from the Swedish Centre for Architecture and Design ArkDes The Stockholm stadsarkiv and The Malm stadsarkiv Historical construction photos of St Peter s Church by Carl Hugo and Lars Gustafsson Photos of the newly constructed St Peter s Church by Ole Meyer Previously unpublished archival photographs of Lewerentz work Translations of various archival documents and audio interviews with the architect Current photography of the architect s work from a variety of photographers Funding support Auburn University College of Architecture Design Construction Aarhus School of Architecture DePaul University College of Computing and Digital Media The King Gustaf VI Adolfs fund for Swedish Culture The Peter and Birgitta Celsing Foundation The University of Tennessee College of Architecture Design

The Tacit Dimension Lara Schrijver, 2021-05-03 In architecture tacit knowledge plays a substantial role in both the design process and its reception The essays in this book explore the tacit dimension of architecture in its aesthetic material cultural design based and reflexive understanding of what we build Tacit knowledge described in 1966 by Michael Polanyi as what we can know but cannot tell often denotes knowledge that escapes quantifiable dimensions of research Much of architecture s knowledge resides beneath the surface in nonverbal instruments such as drawings and models that articulate the spatial imagination of the design process Awareness of the tacit dimension helps to understand the many facets of the spaces we inhabit from the ideas of the architect to the more hidden assumptions of our cultures Beginning in the studio where students are guided into becoming architects the book follows a path through the tacit knowledge present in materials conceptual structures and the design process revealing how the tacit dimension leads to craftsmanship and the situated knowledge of architecture in the world Contributors Tom Avermaete ETH Z rich Margitta Buchert Leibniz Universit t Hannover Christoph Grafe Bergische Universit t Wuppertal Mari Lending The Oslo
