The Making Of The Micro A History Of The Computer:

The Making of the Micro Christopher Riche Evans,1983 The Making of the Micro Christopher Evans,1981 A Bibliographic Guide to the History of Computing, Computers, and the Information Processing Industry,1990-05-21 As millions of people have been exposed to computing through the tremendous growth of microcomputers there has developed an increasing appreciation of the history of data processing which dates back many decades before the arrival of the computer Stretching back to at least the 1860s such early technologies as adding machines punch cards and the office appliance industry are now being recognized for their place in the history of the information processing industry This work brings together a comprehensive list of sources that offer a general introduction to the literature of the industry Divided into nine chapters covering topics and historical periods the bibliography provides an annotated list of published materials describing both the history of the industry and significant items of general interest Each chapter is introduced with a short review of historically important issues and comments on the literature and contains contemporary publications as well as more recent material To give the work a continuing usefulness ongoing publications such as computer magazines are highlighted Entries are grouped under nearly 100 subheadings covering such material as contemporary descriptions of hardware and software of the past seminal technical papers industry surveys programming languages significant individuals and companies and the role of Japan and microcomputing All citations are annotated with a brief summary of either the work s contents or its historical importance while two indexes provide both subject references and author citations This bibliography will be an important reference source for courses in the history of data processing and business history and a useful addition to public college and university libraries IBM Personal Computer Handbook Ira Becker,1983 Contains an Overview of the Personal Computer a Comprehensive Directory Containing Vendors Hardware Software Now the Chips Are Down Alison Gazzard,2024-05-21 The story of a pioneering microcomputer its beginnings as part of a national Computer Literacy Project its innovative hardware and its creative uses In 1982 the British Broadcasting Corporation launched its Computer Literacy Project intended to introduce interested adults to the world of computers and computing The BBC accompanied this initiative with television programs courses books and software an early experiment in multi platform education The BBC along with Acorn Computers also introduced the BBC Microcomputer which would be at the forefront of the campaign The BBC Micro was designed to meet the needs of users in homes and schools to demystify computing and to counter the general pessimism among the media in Britain about technology In this book Alison Gazzard looks at the BBC Micro examining the early capabilities of multi platform content generation and consumption and the multiple literacies this approach enabled not only in programming and software creation but also in accessing information across a range of media and in do it yourself computing She links many of these early developments to current new media practices Gazzard looks at games developed for the BBC Micro including Granny s Garden an educational game for primary schools and Elite the seminal space trading game She considers the shift in focus from hardware to peripherals describing the Teletext Adapter as an early model for software distribution and the Domesday Project which combined texts video and still photographs as a hypermedia like experience Gazzard s account shows the BBC Micro not only as a vehicle for various literacies but also as a user oriented machine that pushed the boundaries of what could be achieved in order to produce something completely new
