The Waaaf:

The WAAAF in Wartime Australia Joyce Aubrey Thomson, 1991 Working in areas as diverse as intelligence and chemical warfare research the 27 000 women who served in the Women s Auxiliary Australian Air Force changed the role of women in wartime Joyce Thomson firmly establishes the WAAAF s place in history and examines the political and public debate stirred by its formation and development amidst male prejudice and the changing status of women Scholars at War Geoffrey G. Gray, Doug Munro, Christine Winter, 2012-01-01 SCHOLARS AT WAR is the first scholarly publication to examine the effect World War II had on the careers of Australasian social scientists It links a group of scholars through geography transnational national and personal scholarly networks and shared intellectual traditions explores their use and contextualizes their experiences and contributions within wider examinations of the role of intellectuals in war SCHOLARS AT WAR is structured around historical portraits of individual Australasian social scientists They are not a tight group rather a cohort of scholars serendipitously involved in and affected by war who share a point of origin Analyzing practitioners of the social sciences during war brings to the fore specific networks beliefs and institutions that transcend politically defined spaces Individual lives help us to make sense of the historical process helping us illuminate particular events and the larger cultural social and even political processes of a moment in time

Beryl Beaufrepaire Michael McKernan, 1999 This is the remarkable portrait of an influential woman establishment yet reformist a staunch individualist who also carefully cultivated a network of powerful contacts Beryl Beaufrepaire was a founding member of the Liberal Party of Australia and a close ally of Malcolm Fraser s She played a key role in the Liberal Party across three decades using her political influence to promote social change for women A proud feminist she worked to promote equality and opportunity for women in political life in the workplace in organisations and in the community This often put her in conflict with members of her own side of politics

Making Waves M Goss, 2013-07-10 This book is an abbreviated partly re written version of Under the Radar The First Woman in Radio Astronomy Ruby Payne Scott It addresses a general readership interested in historical and sociological aspects of astronomy and presents the biography of Ruby Payne Scott 1912 1981 As the first female radio astronomer and one of the first people in the world to consider radio astronomy she made classic contributions to solar radio physics She also played a major role in the design of the Australian government s Council for Scientific and Industrial Research radars which were in turn of vital importance in the Southwest Pacific Theatre in World War II These radars were used by military personnel from Australia the United States and New Zealand From a sociological perspective her career offers many examples of the perils of being a female academic in the first half of the 20th century Written in an engaging style and complemented by many historical photographs this book offers fascinating insights into the beginnings of radio astronomy and the role of a pioneering woman in astronomy To set the scene the first colourfully illustrated chapter presents an overview of solar astrophysics and the tools of the radio astronomer From the reviews of Under the Radar This is a beautifully researched copiously illustrated and well written book that tells us much more than the life of one amazing female radio astronomer It also provides a profile on radar developments during WWII and on Australia s pre eminent place in solar radio astronomy in the years following WWII Under the Radar is compelling reading and if you have taken the time to read right through this review then it certainly belongs on your bookshelf Wayne Orchiston Journal of Astronomical History and Heritage March 2010

Taking the Lead Mark Lax,2020-03-01 As Australia withdrew from Vietnam in 1972 few in the Australian Defence Force none the least those in the Royal Australian Air Force could foresee the immense change that would sweep across the Service New and emerging international relationships changing Australian social attitudes and a growing sense of defence self reliance would all impact how the RAAF contributed to the application of air power in the defence of the nation and in supporting Australia s wider national interests For the first time Taking the Lead brings to the reader a comprehensive and authoritative study of how the RAAF matured over its third quarter century how it met the challenges faced and how it finally came of age able to take the lead when asked By 1996 plans were in place such that the RAAF was well on the way to becoming the world s first fifth generation air force by making a remarkable transition This volume also dispels the myth that the RAAF did little in the latter part of the twentieth century but train In fact the RAAF was at the forefront of operations as wide afield as the Sub Continent the Middle East Africa and South East Asia Then there was aid to the civil community as well as aid to those nations seeking help in wider Asia Pacific region Clever force restructuring for expeditionary operations amid the stress of downsizing by almost a third meant that future operations in the twenty first century were to be a success Taking the Lead is not just about aircraft bases and flying It considers the strategic environment of the era the factors that affected personnel and training how the RAAF s force structure advanced and how the RAAF managed its successes and failures For those seeking to learn more about their air force then this book is essential reading Taking the Lead covers this vital part of the RAAF s unfolding narrative and perfectly illustrates how the RAAF remained true to its motto Per Ardua ad Astra Through Adversity to the Stars

Expressions of War in Australia and the Pacific Amanda Laugesen,Catherine Fisher,2019-10-04 This edited book includes chapters that explore the impact of war and its aftermath in language and official discourse It covers a broad chronological range from the First World War to very recent experiences of war with a focus on Australia and the Pacific region It examines three main themes in relation to language the impact of war and trauma on language the language of war remembrance and the language of official communications of war and the military An innovative work that takes an interdisciplinary approach to the themes of war and language the collection will be of interest to students and scholars across linguistics literary studies history and conflict studies

The Empire Has An Answer Tony James Brady,2019-06-05 If we do not win the battle of training we shall win no other battle in the air In 1943 the Royal Air Force recognised that training a vast amount of aircrew for a high attrition war was essential to an Allied victory and that the key to winning the battle of training was the Empire Air Training Scheme

EATS 37 576 Australian aircrew graduated from the EATS Over 300 were killed whilst training for war and 9874 aircrew were killed or listed as missing while on active duty Those who fought under this scheme during World War II amounted to just 6 7 per cent of Australian service personnel serving overseas yet the aircrew losses amounted to almost 25 per cent of all the Australian fatalities during the war This made serving in EATS among the most hazardous duties of the war The Empire has an Answer was researched using more than 35 000 articles from 150 metropolitan regional and district newspapers and what materialised was a story of one of if not the greatest training programs the world has seen Follow the journey from the conception and implementation of the scheme through recruitment and basic training flight training and then into combat The individual accounts woven into the narrative provide a first hand experience of the triumphs and trials of typical airmen and airwomen who performed extraordinary feats in a time of great need The significant achievements and success of the Empire Air Training Scheme has for the most part been overlooked in our history until now WAAAF at War Elizabeth M. Robertson,1974 Changing Altitudes Big Sky Publishing,2024-10-02 In the early years of the Second World War Australian women began lobbying to contribute to the nation s wartime effort From 1940 women were signing up to serve in the Royal Australian Nursing Service and in 1941 an Auxiliary arm of the Royal Australian Air Force was established allowing women to join on a temporary basis to enhance the organisation s ability to fight In the decades since Australian women have continued to contribute significantly to the operational capability of the world s second oldest air force They have done so regardless of the social norms of the time or the perceived limits of their abilities always showing their detractors that they are capable of great things Changing Altitudes The Stories of Australian Air Force Women includes the personal stories of some of these women recounting in their own words their experiences while proudly wearing the uniform of the Service This is the second volume of the Royal Australian Air Force Oral Histories series aiming to capture the one capability that the RAAF cannot operate without its people The Oxford Companion to Australian Military History Peter Dennis,1995 This is a comprehensive guide to Australian military history broadly conceived within a critical and analytical framework Its 800 entries extend beyond standard categories such as battles campaigns biographies and weapons and encompass the structures of various parts of the defense force organization and their evolution military language and customs literature dealing with military themes and treaties alliances and acts of parliament that have had a significant impact on the military Complete with 100 photographs and 32 maps the result is a comprehensive work of reference analysis and interest that will come to be regarded as the authoritative work in the field On Air Mike Carlton,2020-02 Mike Carlton was born to controversy His father Jimmy a renowned Olympic athlete and later a Catholic priest married his mother after a whirlwind wartime courtship This scandal was hushed up at first but eventually it made headlines Six years later Jimmy Carlton died in his wife s arms felled by asthma It was a tough beginning Mike would have a Sydney suburban childhood where every penny counted Unable to afford a university education he left school at sixteen to begin a life in journalism that would propel him to the top as one of Australia's best known media figures. In an often turbulent career of more than fifty years he has been a war correspondent, political reporter, a TV news and current affairs reporter, an award-winning radio presenter in both Sydney and London, an outspoken newspaper columnist and a biting satirist. In later life he realised a lifelong ambition to write three bestselling books of Australian naval history. On Air is his story, no holds barred. With characteristic humour and flair, Mike tells of the feuds and the friendships, the fun and the follies, writing candidly of the extraordinary parade of characters and events he has encountered in the unique life he has led.

The Girls Were Up There Too Sheila Mann, 1986. This booklet is an attempt to show how women were involved in the aviation industry. From the Early Birds, those pioneers of the air to the 1980s airline pilots, these women have contributed in many different ways. The Victorian Historical Magazine, 1967. A Saga of Achievement E. R. Hall (Group Captain.), 1978. Australia in the War of 1939-1945: Royal Australian Air Force 1939-42 by Douglas Gillison, Whispering Death Mark Johnston, 2011-08-01. Powerful, authoritative and provocative, this is the first one-volume history of the RAAF's immense conflict with Japan. The Great Jubilee Book Jules Feldmann, 1927. Annual Report Queensland. Public Service Commissioner, 1921. Degrees of Liberation Farley Kelly, 1985. The Australian Encyclopaedia Bruce W. Pratt, 1979.
