The War Within:

War Within Ivana Maček, 2000 Games and War in Early Modern English Literature Holly Faith Nelson, James William Daems, 2025-10-01 This pioneering collection of nine original essays carves out a new conceptual path in the field by theorizing the ways in which the language of games and warfare inform and illuminate each other in the early modern cultural imagination They consider how warfare and games are mapped onto each other in aesthetically and ideologically significant ways in the early modern plays poetry or prose of William Shakespeare Thomas Morton John Milton Margaret Cavendish Aphra Behn and Jonathan Swift among others Contributors interpret the terms war games or games of war broadly freeing them to uncover the more complex and abstract interplay of war and games in the early modern mind taking readers from the cockpits and clowns of Shakespearean drama through the intriguing manuals of cryptographers and the ingenious literary wargames of Restoration women authors to the witty but rancorous paper wars of the late seventeenth and early eighteenth centuries

Women and War in Roman Epic Elina Pyy, 2020-11-04 In Women and War in Roman Epic Elina Pyy discusses the narrative and ideological functions of gender in the works of Virgil Lucan Statius Silius Italicus and Valerius Flaccus By examining the themes of violence death guilt grief and anger in their epics she offers an account of the intertextual tradition of the genre and its socio political background Through a combination of classical narratology and Julia Kristeva's subjectivity theory Pyy scrutinises how gendered marginality is constructed in the genre and how it contributes to the fashioning of Roman imperial identity Focusing on the ambiguous elements of epic the study looks beyond the binary oppositions between the Self and the Other male and female and Roman and barbarian

Our Country in War, and Relations with All Nations Murat Halstead, 1898 Just War in Religion and Politics Jacob Neusner, Bruce D. Chilton, R. E. Tully, 2013-04-18 The basis of this collection of essays is the reading of a common topic from different perspectives Half of the book is devoted to the comparative study of religions and the courses are offered by religion professors The other half is shaped by social science approaches and the seminars are given mainly by social science professors We aim to compare and contrast not only positions but also methods of learning We examine theories of the just war in diverse cultural contexts and their disciplinary settings Space is devoted to the study of papers prepared for this project by specialists in various disciplines mainly but not exclusively faculty of Bard College and the United States Military Academy at West Point

Adaptation under Fire Lt. General David Barno, Nora Bensahel, 2020-08-03 A critical look into how and why the U S military needs to become more adaptable Every military must prepare for future wars despite not really knowing the shape such wars will ultimately take As former U S Secretary of Defense Robert Gates once noted We have a perfect record in predicting the next war We have never once gotten it right In the face of such great uncertainty militaries must be able to adapt rapidly in order to win Adaptation under Fire identifies the characteristics that make militaries more adaptable illustrated through historical examples and the recent wars in Iraq and Afghanistan Authors David Barno and Nora Bensahel argue that militaries facing unknown future conflicts must nevertheless make choices about the type of doctrine that their units will use the weapons and equipment they will purchase and the kind of leaders they will select and develop to guide the force to victory Yet after a war begins many of these choices will prove flawed in the unpredictable crucible of the battlefield For a U S military facing diverse global threats its ability to adapt quickly and effectively to those unforeseen circumstances may spell the difference between victory and defeat Barno and Bensahel start by providing a framework for understanding adaptation and include historical cases of success and failure Next they examine U S military adaptation during the nation s recent wars and explain why certain forms of adaptation have proven problematic In the final section Barno and Bensahel conclude that the U S military must become much more adaptable in order to address the fast changing security challenges of the future and they offer recommendations on how to do so before it is too late
