Coworking Spaces in La Paz, Bolivia Lucas DuPriest, 2019 This paper investigates the location patterns of coworking spaces the effects of coworking spaces on the local and urban context and coworking spaces potential opportunities for the creation of local economic development issues that have been neglected in a Bolivian context by the existing literature The focus of this paper is on La Paz Bolivia's political capital and the city in Bolivia which host the largest number of coworking spaces The paper addresses three main questions

- 1 Where are the main locations of coworking spaces in La Paz
- 2 to what extent do coworking spaces generate transformative effects on the local respectively the urban scale e.g. physical transformations changes in practices community building
- 3 how do coworking spaces create potential opportunities for local economic development

Desk research demonstrated that location patterns of coworking spaces are concentrated to two main commercial areas of the city as well as to the main infrastructural and transportation axes Field research highlighted local and urban effects such as local community initiatives and micro urban transformations in both spaces and practices Lastly field research assessed coworking spaces role in the socio economic ecosystem Three main typologies have been identified the first type of coworking spaces act as social entrepreneurship and start up incubators with a supportive role and closer ties to social and urban issues the second type of coworking spaces act as coffee and cowork incubators providing cafés with shared workspaces the third type of coworking spaces act as real estate business incubators and are mainly a commercial product responding the demand for flexible office spaces This paper therefore helps to fill the gap in the literature about the location patterns of these new working spaces and their effects at different scales both in terms of spaces and practices as well as local economic development

The Effect of Workplace Design to Employee Engagement, Collaborative Capability, and Perceived Work Performance in Coworking Spaces Hannah Angelica Go, Lalaine B. Boco, Joseph Christian A., 2018-03-13 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2018 in the subject Leadership and Human Resources Miscellaneous University of Santo Tomas College of Commerce and Business Administration course Human Resource Development Management language English abstract The Coworking space phenomenon is rapidly growing across the countries of North America Europe and Asia Owing to its functional work environment it offers coworkers a collaborative atmosphere that makes them more involved at work The research study aims to describe the causal relationship of workplace design to perceived work performance and to employee engagement and collaborative capability as mediating variables through the use of Structural Equation Modeling SEM A total of 350 coworkers aged 18 60 years old from 27 different coworking spaces in Metro Manila Philippines participated in the study The findings of this research revealed that workplace design has no direct effect on perceived work performance hence perceived work performance improves when coworkers are more engaged and have better collaborative capability Nonetheless the rest of the hypothesized premises were affirmed in the result of this study This paper can help the HR managers and the business centers to create a more flexible and constructive workplace setting for their employees Further the results can be used as a basis for the fundamental shift of the traditional workspace into a new creative workplace

Coworking Atmospheres

Alexandra Bernhardt,2023-07-07 The study by Alexandra Bernhardt deals with coworking spaces and their atmospheres In addition to a comprehensive consideration of the role of atmospheres the special significance of community in the context of these work spaces is examined in more detail Two case studies in urban coworking spaces form the core of the investigation following a qualitative research design oriented towards ethnography and a plurality of methods In the context of the analysis on the one hand what constitutes coworking in everyday life and thus the new communality at work is considered relevant practices and rituals spatial arrangements and atmospheres are elaborated in their composition On the other hand coworkers their spatial actions and the attitudes associated with them come into closer focus It is shown how users access coworking spaces as work and community spaces and what role atmospheres play In addition social entities are highlighted that are taken up by coworkers in relation to their coworking space and that help shape everyday coworking space life Tensions that arise from the coexistence of community and service logic are also uncovered and how they are dealt with is examined in more detail

Reimagination Stations Lori Kane,2015-03-29 What does it mean to reimagine part of your private home as a community space What does it take to imagine run work in let go of and play in a free in home coworking space What are the impacts of doing so on the homeowners housemates renters neighbors coworkers neighborhood city and region We are living answers to these questions and offer experience based hints for others playing with similar ideas This is also a flash non fiction book that contains found object art and community surfaced stories and ideas We got the idea for the book during coworking on February 4 2015 We created the book in four weeks finished March 5th as hoped We self published in March to be timely useful and affordable for people we love Friends and neighbors mentioned in community stories can pick up their free copy of the book at the house during coworking in 2015 starting in April Feel free to ask me anything about turning our home into community space about this and other neighborhood reimagination stations we re connected to now or about the process of creating flash non fiction and lived adventure books Bring your own plan to get me to shut up when you need to go In person about subjects I love I do tend to go on a bit Lori
