Imperfect Sympathies J. Page,2004-09-17 Judith W Page argues that the cultural revolution of sympathy and sentiment in British literature from 1770 1830 influenced the representations of Jews and Judaism Page draws on historical materials and primary documents by and about Jews of the period as well as a variety of authors and literary genres She argues that there is a tension between the Romantic impulse to admire and sympathize with Jews and Judaism on the one hand and the traditions of anti semitism and conversionist philo Semitism on the other This often unresolved tension in the literature reflects the political and cultural struggles of the time as well as the dilemma of Romanticism which advocates sympathy but doesn t always accommodate difference     Haunted Families and Temporal Normativity in Hispanic Horror Films Charles St-Georges,2018-04-20 This book examines the interactions between ghosts and families in three recent horror films from the Spanish speaking world that rather than explicitly referencing recent political violence speak to the societal conditions and everyday normative violence that serve as preconditions for political violence This study deconstructs intersectional processes of racially and sexually normative subject formation and its oppositional other ghostly erasure that are framed by a common temporal logic wherein full citizenship is contingent upon a nation s dominant notions of contemporaneousness and whether individuals properly inhabit prescriptive timelines of re productivity St Georges s study explores ways in which ghosts and families are manipulated in each national imaginary as a strategy for negotiating volatility within symbolic order a tactic that can either naturalize or challenge normative discourses As a literary and cinematic trope ghosts are particularly useful vehicles for the exploration of national imaginaries and the dominant or competing cultural attitudes towards a country s history and thus the articulation of a present political reality The rhetorical figure of the family is also key in this process as a mechanism for expressing national allegories for expressing generational anxieties about a nation s relationship to time and for organizing societies and social subjects as such interpellating them into or excluding them from national imaginaries By proposing these specific coordinates ghosts and families and by mapping their relationship between Spain and Latin America Troubling Timelines proposes a study of a temporal framework that besides bridging the traditional area studies divide across the Atlantic creates a space for interdisciplinary inquiry while also responding to increasing demand for studies that focus on intersectionality
