Teaching Stories:

My First Year in the Classroom Stephen D. Rogers, 2009-08-18 When the student is ready the teacher will appear Lao Tzu But is the teacher ready That s the question that challenges every teacher on that fateful first day in the classroom Making it through that day and the 179 school days that follow is how every career in education and lifelong learning truly begins In My First Year in the Classroom you ll laugh cry and undeniably empathize when you read about these fifty teachers trials tribulations and triumphs they ve experienced during their first year on the job Organized along the lines of the school calendar these touching tales will illustrate for you the learning curve ex experienced by new teachers as they Face day on meet the students surprise the students bond with faculty and staff be surprised by the students watch the students bloom say farewell From the hilariously obsessive compulsive preparation of a rookie English professor to the poignant lesson a bold third grader imparts upon his novice teacher about love and acceptance this moving collection is sure to motivate you whether you ve been teaching for years or days

Art's Teachings, Teaching's Art Tyson Lewis, Megan Laverty, 2015-08-28 This volume examines the interface between the teachings of art and the art of teaching and asserts the centrality of aesthetics for rethinking education Many of the essays in this collection claim a direct connection between critical thinking democratic dissensus and anti racist pedagogy with aesthetic experiences They argue that aesthetics should be reconceptualized less as mere art appreciation or the cultivation of aesthetic judgment of taste and more with the affective disruptions phenomenological experiences and the democratic politics of learning thinking and teaching The first set of essays in the volume examines the unique pedagogies of the various arts including literature poetry film and music The second set addresses questions concerning the art of pedagogy and the relationship between aesthetic experience and teaching and learning Demonstrating the flexibility and diversity of aesthetic expressions and experiences in education the book deals with issues such as the connections between racism and affect curatorship and teaching aesthetic experience and the common and studying and poetics The book explores these topics through a variety of theoretical and philosophical lenses including contemporary post structuralism psychoanalysis phenomenology critical theory and pragmatism

Teaching Through the Ill Body Marla Morris, 2008-01-01 This book raises questions around pedagogy and illness Morris explores two large issues that run through the text What does the ill body teach What does the teacher do through the ill body The body has something to teach while teaching through the ill body This book is theoretically framed by connections between spirituality and aesthetics As the great spiritual traditions teach our responsibility as teachers is to help others especially those who are marginalized What is lacking in our educational discourse is a discussion of the responsibility we all have to help those who get sick and not marginalize them More specifically pedagogical and curricular questions are fleshed out through working in the area of curriculum studies depth psychology and the medical humanities These three disciplines have something in common autobiography But in the field of curriculum studies autobiographies pathographies of sickness are few and far between This book is meant to fill that gap in the educational literature This pathography is a study that explores the mysteries of suffering storytelling memory and poesis Compassion woundedness vulnerability testimony and authenticity are all issues Morris raises here Teachers scholars depth psychologists and medical educators might be particularly interested in this intensely felt narrative about what it is like for teachers to teach while suffering from chronic illness

Teacher Identity Discourses Janet Alsup,2006-08-15 In this book Janet Alsup reports and theorizes a multi layered study of teacher identity development The study which followed six pre service English education students was designed to investigate her hypothesis that forming or failing to form a professional identity is central in the process of becoming an effective teacher This work addresses the intersection of various types of discourse within the process of professional identity development emphasizes that the intersection of the personal and professional in teacher identity formation is more complex than is acknowledged in typical methods classes and accents the need for teacher educators to take steps to facilitate such integration Specific suggestions for methods courses are presented that teacher educators can use as is or adapt to their own contexts Teacher Identity Discourses Negotiating Personal and Professional Spaces speaks eloquently to faculty researchers and graduate students across the field of teacher education
